Anglo-Iranian Parleys Cease, British Leave

Employees Instructed To Leave For Home, Leave No Technicians

ABADAN, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company ordered the evacuation of its British, Indian and Pakistani employees from southern Iran today following the breakdown of talks on the oil nationalization dispute.

The company, nationalized by the Tehran government, sent the instructions to 232 Britons and 142 Indians and Pakistanis in southern Iran and Bandar Mashur.

Those in the oil fields were instructed to return immediately to Abadan and to prepare to go home.

Out by Monday

All foreigners are scheduled to be out of the oil fields by Monday morning, leaving the Iranians with the difficult problem of finding skilled technicians and replacements.

Five special planes will fly the British home from Basra Tuesday and Wednesday.

Earlier, Britain's lord privy seal, Richard Stokes, left Tehran for London by plane expressing "profound regret" at the failure of the negotiators to reach an agreement on the dispute.

Stokes, despite the failure of the talks, held out a slim hope that the talks might yet be resumed, saying:

"If the Iranians advance any fresh proposals parallel to the March 20 nationalization law and the Harriman formula, I am sure his majesty's government would be ready to resume talks."

While expressing "profound regret," Stokes said the suspension of the talks had come in a "friendly atmosphere" and added:

Build Bridge

"It would be a mistake to think that no progress was made. A strong bridge was built through Harriman's good services."

W. Averell Harriman, special foreign policy adviser to President Truman, who prevailed on both sides to resume the talks more than three weeks ago, is expected to leave in a few days also. He too, (Continued on Page Two)

A truck parked on East North street, Wednesday afternoon, was well decorated with out of state license plates. It was observed by PA News. The front of the truck bore 1951 license plates from Tennessee, Oklahoma, Florida, Mississippi and Massachusetts. The interstate traveling truck was unloading furniture.

Residents of the east side section were startled by a low flying plane around 11 p.m. Wednesday, which nearly took the chimneys from some houses. Evidently the pilot was lost and became confused. He headed the craft toward the Ellwood road section. The roar of the plane rattled window panes in some homes. Check of the New Castle airport revealed that the plane was not from there.

Fruit of all sorts seems to be in over abundance in local orchards again this year. This year's apple crop may exceed that of last year. One employee of the News relates to PA News that the plum tree in his yard was so loaded with the fruit that it actually pulled the tree from the ground, uprooting it. Peaches are plentiful also.

Neighbors in the Indian Run section of Big Beaver township on the Moravia-Galilee road have been testing out the section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike there which has been completed. The concrete ribbons are slowly edging toward the Pennsylvania-Ohio border. (Continued on Page Two)

Budeniz Returns To Stand Today With New Story

Plans To Describe Episode Concerning Aide To Roosevelt

By CHARLES B. SEIB

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—One time communist leader Louis Budenz returns to the Senate internal security hearings today to describe an "episode" reportedly involving Laughlin Currie, president Roosevelt's aide.

Budeniz is being questioned by the Senate committee headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) as part of its probe into charges that the Institute of Pacific Relations is communist-dominated and has had an important voice in U. S. policy in the Far East.

Currie, now an advisor to the Colombian government on the American point four technical aid program, has been a member of the IPR's board of trustees.

Committee counsel Robert Morris said that Currie is included in a list of some 30 persons connected with IPR about whom Budenz will be questioned.

Refuses Details
Morris refused to reveal any details about the "episode," which reportedly took place while Currie was in his White House job.

Budeniz, who had access to top-level Red secrets as editor of the Daily Worker and a member of the communist national committee, flatly testified Wednesday that he (Continued on Page Seven)

Breaks His Fast After 33 Days

After thirty-three days abstinence from solid food, George "Rocky" Lewis took some orange juice today.

As a member of Natural Hygienists of America, Mr. Lewis believes that an annual fast makes for good health by the elimination of poisons from the system. In 1948 he fasted while in Florida for 23 days. This year he went his 1948 record ten days better.

In the thirty-three days he has not eaten any food of any kind. He has lost 28 pounds but expects to regain it quickly after he starts eating solids.

For a few days he will live on fruit juices and then gradually get back to meats and vegetables.

Mr. Lewis is a former tin mill worker. He is presently employed as a rodmann at the new power plant of the Pennsylvania Power Company in West Pittsburg.

Middle Income Tax Payers Hit Under New Plan

Higher Brackets Would Be Favored Look For New Plan

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Senate tax writers take a new and tougher look today at their proposed defense levy for individuals in the light of information that it would benefit taxpayers making more than $25,000 a year.

The Senate finance committee ordered new tables prepared to eliminate what were termed "misleading" calculations of how the tax would affect different groups of taxpayers.

Surprised

Members admitted they were surprised and concerned when staff-prepared tables showed that their defense levy would hit middle-income brackets harder than the flat 12.5 per cent House plan and go much easier on higher brackets.

But it was reported that while the committee staff estimated the Senate program would raise 412 million dollars less than the House plan, treasury experts estimated the difference at about 529 million dollars.

The treasury also reportedly showed that of this amount, more than 400 million dollars are in taxes that would not have to be paid by individuals with $25,000 or more a year net income.

Chairman George (D) Ga. said the committee was reviewing the whole matter and that as a result the individual rates "might be changed somewhat." He called the tables issued by the committee staff "misleading" and "not correct."

He concluded: "None will be above the House rates, except in one bracket where the increase will be about one dollar."

Adopt Alternative

The Senate committee voted on Tuesday to adopt its alternative to the flat 12.5 per cent House boost in its 7.2 billion dollar tax increase bill.

Apparently, the committee did not expect its plan to hit middle-income taxpayers harder than the House plan. (Continued on Page Two)

Jewelry Theft Puzzles Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—New York detectives studied their records of known topflight jewel thieves today looking for a "trade-mark" that might tip them to the burglar who stole $20,585 worth of jewels from the hotel room of tennis queen Margaret Osborne DuPont.

The gems disappeared from a vanity table sometime between 3 a. m. and 11:30 a. m. Wednesday. Mrs. DuPont told the police. They vanished while she and two other women tennis stars, Mrs. Thelma Long and Louise Brough—were asleep in their 13th floor Savoy-Plaza hotel suite.

Mrs. DuPont, the wife of wealthy William DuPont, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., and the other tennis players went out to dinner and then a night club Tuesday evening, returning to the hotel at 3 a. m. when they retired.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Government controllers admitted today that housewives will have to pay more for beef to offset lower prices for leather and soap.

Fighting Still Brisk, Bad Weather Hampers Air Force Fighting

By ROBERT SCHAKNE

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 24.—(Friday)—Complete victory in the "battle of the hills" in eastern Korea was claimed Thursday afternoon by the Eighth Army for South Korean troops but fighting was still brisk on the front Thursday evening.

Major Objective

During the day, the Republic of Korea forces gained a major hill objective but two Red counterattacking battalions pushed them from the crest of a second. The ROKS and Communists were still "heavily" engaged on the ridge line at last reports Thursday evening.

The captured hill was west of Kamsong, east coastal city, and it had been the subject of heavy fighting for four days.

On another hill to the north of the one taken Thursday, ROK forces beat off a probing attack by two Red platoons and other ROK units sought to gain yet another hill 550 yards to the northwest.

South Korean forces fighting in the area west of Kamsong announced that during the first five days of the "battle for the hills" they killed 712 Reds and took 10 prisoners. The ROK forces were congratulated for their victories by Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet.

Air support to the 25-mile embattled attack front was hampered by rain and cloudy weather.

Weather Flights

The Fifth Air Force flew only weather reconnaissance flights and 17 effective sorties yesterday because of the heavy overcast.

The 17 sorties is the lowest number flown by the Fifth Air Force since February 9 when bad weather held them to only seven effective sorties.

Ridgway Denies Allied Planes Bomb Kaesong

Parley Will Resume In Three Or Four Days, Officials Believe

(BULLETIN)

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

(Far Eastern Director, U. S. S.)

UN BASE NEAR KAESONG, Aug. 24.—(Friday)—The top North Korean and Chinese Communist leaders today confirmed the suspension of Korean armistice talks by the Red truce delegation.

Peiping radio said North Korean Premier Kim Il-Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, commander-in-chief of the Communist Chinese forces in Korea, announced "all talks" were suspended "after August 23."

(Far Eastern Director, U. S. S.)

UN BASE NEAR KAESONG, Aug. 24.—(Friday)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway announced early today that no Allied planes flew over Kaesong Wednesday night at the time the Communists alleged United Nations aircraft attacked the Korean armistice conference city.

The UN supreme commander issued his statement a few hours after Red China's radio said the Communist breakdown of the truce talks was meant to apply only to Thursday's subcommittee session. A high UN source predicted resumption of the negotiations in three or four days.

Suspended Suddenly

The slated parley was suddenly suspended early Thursday by the Reds with a charge that Allied aircraft had bombed and strated Kaesong—a charge promptly investigated by UN officers who termed it an amateurish "frame-up."

From his Tokyo headquarters, Ridgway declared in a Thursday midnight (10 a.m. EDT) statement that neither air force nor navy planes of the UN armed forces were over Kaesong at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night.

It was at that hour that the Reds charged Allied aircraft had dropped (Continued on Page Seven)

The talks broke down over a British demand that the Abadan refinery remain under direct British control although general direction would be in the hands of the Iranian government.

Harriman begins his round of farewells later in the day and is expected to leave Tehran Friday and Saturday.

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The United States refused today to abandon hope for an eventual settlement of the Iranian oil problem despite the breakup of Anglo-Iranian negotiations.

Official comment was withheld pending the receipt of reports from W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's personal envoy who was sent to Tehran to seek a settlement. Earlier, Secretary of State Acheson had declared that the situation in Iran is very critical and very discouraging. This was after British Negotiator Richard Stokes had sent an ultimatum to the Iranians demanding that a British manager be installed in the Abadan refinery.

Although reports from Tehran said that Harriman is expected to leave for home within a few days, officials did not give immediate credence to the report.

It is felt here that Harriman will remain until he is satisfied that there is no hope whatever for a resumption of the negotiations.

upheld by Haas who said Miss Albert was ousted under the public school code of 1949 which forbids teachers to advocate or participate in un-American or subversive doctrines.

The Pittsburgh teacher has taken her case to the commonwealth's courts on the basis that the section of the code is unconstitutional, according to Haas.

In his opinion, the public instruction superintendent declared he is not in the position to pass on the constitutionality of an act of the general assembly.

Generalized Rumors

Other than this case, said Haas, he knows of "nothing other than generalized rumors," which have been circulating.

He said it is primarily up to school boards to police their jurisdictions for signs of communist baring in the school system.

"If a school board has reasonable evidence, they can call in a suspect for a hearing, and if they believe the evidence is supported, they can dismiss the teacher under that section of the school code," Haas said.

However, he pointed out, the dismissed teacher has the right under the teachers' tenure to appeal to the superintendent of public instruction and then to the courts.

Haas agreed with Gov. John S. Fine that the "majority of our school teachers are good Americans and faithful in their teaching to the American way of life."

Modern Machinery

At the Benson farm, modern machinery was displayed and demonstrated. Grass farming, a comparatively new farming idea was explained. Those on tour were able to see the grass chopper in operation and the filling of the silo.

John Benson pointed out contour stripping he had laid out 11 years ago to prevent soil erosion. He showed the group the blower, bailer and chopping machines, and the new manure gutter-cleaner which is operated on a chain-belt process.

Grain Crops

Also raised on the Benson farm are oats, wheat, and corn; and it was last year that 30-head of milk cows produced 151,477 quarts of milk.

The farm sells milk, eggs, poultry, hogs, cattle, and wheat.

Final stop on the tour was at the F. W. Byers and Sons farm.

Successful Four

Much of the success for the four can be attributed to the work of chairman of the Agricultural committee chairman, Dale Currie, and committee members L. C. PARTY LEADERS ARE OPTIMISTIC OVER 1952 RACE

Ohio, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Gov. Henry Schricker of Indiana also is at the meeting but Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky cancelled his plans to attend.

Barkley will speak Saturday night at a joint banquet session of the conference and the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association.

Other issues up for discussion include price control, the national emergency and the furor arising from the stoppage of $20 million annually in federal welfare funds for Indiana because of a new state law publicizing welfare rolls.

Welfare publicity has become a national issue since several states have enacted measures similar to the Indiana law and others are contemplating such legislation.

To Blast Controls

At tonight's banquet, Ray Mad-denoff, Gary, Ind., will blast the diluted price controls bill passed by Congress. Major share of the blame for watering down of the law was placed by President Truman on Indiana's GOP Senator Capehart.

Another Indiana delegate, Winfield K. Denton of Evansville, will assail the Republican-controlled state legislature in the welfare security administrator Oscar R. Ewing, who stopped the Indiana welfare allowances.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. Di-Salle will discuss price controls at the French Lick conference. He is slated to address a luncheon sponsored by women tomorrow. Mrs. India Edwards, Democratic national vice-chairman, will preside.

National defense takes the spotlight tomorrow night when Navy Secretary Kimball will be the featured speaker. Others on the program are Fred Korsh, deputy counsel for the department of the army and Rosewell L. Gilpatrick, assistant air force secretary.

JOSEPH E. BROWN DIES WEDNESDAY

Rebecca Brown. As a young man he served in World War One, seeing sea duty on six different ships in the United States Navy during his 2 1/2-years service.

When the United States entered the Second World War he again donned uniform, enlisting again in the Navy. This time he served two years on tankers and oilers in the southwest Pacific and the Aleutians. He was discharged as Quartermaster First Class.

Income individuals heavier than the House plan, while letting top bracket people off much easier.

One member said the committee wanted to "take the hump out" of the tax table to equalize the burden but commented dryly:

"The trouble is, you take it out at one point and it pops up at another."

It was indicated that the committee wanted tables prepared showing the total tax each category would pay, rather than the increase percentage-wise.

Several Days

The mixup caused some committee members to predict privately that the committee would not finish the study of individual levies and pass on to corporation taxes for several days.

The Senate plan, as adopted tentatively, would add a defense tax of three per cent on income under $2,000 after all deductions and present taxes are subtracted, and add four per cent on such income over $2,000.

CHOICE AND VALUABLE PIECES

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Vendors in ancient times featured wares of lesser value. Choice and valuable pieces were reserved for the man who knew enough to ask for them. In our business, such a practice would be bad indeed. One drug or formula may look exactly like another. The quality of a pharmaceutical can be discerned only by those trained in such matters. Responsibility for supplying high-quality pharmaceuticals rests entirely with the pharmacist. This is a responsibility which we shoulder with pride and profound integrity. Our attitude is that the sick and ailing need the finest medicinals obtainable. That is the kind we always supply.

expressed the hope that the talks were suspended rather than completely ended.

The talks broke down over a British demand that the Abadan refinery remain under direct British control although general direction would be in the hands of the Tehran government.

Look for Way Out

Before leaving, Stokes visited Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and Foreign Minister Bagher Kazemi.

He said the interview with Mossadegh was "friendly" and that they agreed that the retention of the British staff at Abadan would be desirable. Stokes said they "hope a way will be found to achieve this."

Harriman begins his round of farewells later in the day and is expected to leave Tehran Friday and Saturday.

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The United States refused today to abandon hope for an eventual settlement of the Iranian oil problem despite the breakup of Anglo-Iranian negotiations.

Official comment was withheld pending the receipt of reports from W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's personal envoy who was sent to Tehran to seek a settlement. Earlier, Secretary of State Acheson had declared that the situation in Iran is very critical and very discouraging. This was after British Negotiator Richard Stokes had sent an ultimatum to the Iranians demanding that a British manager be installed in the Abadan refinery.

Although reports from Tehran said that Harriman is expected to leave for home within a few days, officials did not give immediate credence to the report.

It is felt here that Harriman will remain until he is satisfied that there is no hope whatever for a resumption of the negotiations.

squeezed because hide prices are 25 per cent below the ceiling and tallow prices 33 per cent below the legal maximum.

The official said that one of the "big four" packers has reported a loss for the first six months of 1951. He would not say which one of the "big four"—Armour, Swift, Cudahy or Wilson—he meant.

The beef price increase was announced after OPS officials met all day with representatives of the slaughtering industry to consider changes in the beef price control prices will probably remain unchanged.

The new ceilings are expected to raise the price of round cuts, although an OPS spokesman said retail ceilings on loin and rib cuts may still be lowered. Hamburger prices will probably remain unchanged.

SUPT. HAAS SEES NO COMMUNISM AMONG TEACHERS

upheld by Haas who said Miss Albert was ousted under the public school code of 1949 which forbids teachers to advocate or participate in un-American or subversive doctrines.

The Pittsburgh teacher has taken her case to the commonwealth's courts on the basis that the section of the code is unconstitutional, according to Haas.

In his opinion, the public instruction superintendent declared he is not in the position to pass on the constitutionality of an act of the general assembly.

Generalized Rumors

Other than this case, said Haas, he knows of "nothing other than generalized rumors," which have been circulating.

He said it is primarily up to school boards to police their jurisdictions for signs of communist biding in the school system.

"If a school board has reasonable evidence, they can call in a suspect for a hearing, and if they believe the evidence is supported, they can dismiss the teacher under that section of the school code," Haas said.

However, he pointed out, the dismissed teacher has the right under the teachers' tenure to appeal to the superintendent of public instruction and then to the courts.

Haas agreed with Gov. John S. Fine that the "majority of our school teachers are good Americans and faithful in their teaching to the American way of life."

Campers along the Route 422 in the Rose Point section have had little privacy this past summer. The new route ran through the center of the camping area, and some cottages are quite close to the new road. Privacy was not afforded several of the cottage owners who were used to laxity in attire while enjoying camp life.

Leaps To Death From Hotel Room

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—A neatly-dressed man about 50 years old jumped to his death early today from a 24th floor room of the Hotel New Yorker.

There was a mystery as to his identity. He registered last midnight under the name "L. Jaffe" and gave his address as the Warwick Hotel in Philadelphia. But police said a query to the Philadelphia hotel brought the reply the man was not known there. No notes were left in the room.

BUSINESS MEN VISIT FARMS

etab farm in Shenango township, the modern dairy farms of John O. Benson in North Beaver township, and the F. W. Byers and sons in Mahoning township.

Explain Process

George G. Weinschenk explained the processing of corn, and lima, wax, and green beans. He led the group through one of the largest green houses in the United States. Just planted in this 600 by 120 foot unit, are 10,000 tomato plants which will be harvested in early October.

Ninety per cent of his tomatoes are sold within 25 miles of New Castle, and ninety per cent of his corn and beans are sold in areas over 25 miles from New Castle, usually in Pittsburgh or surrounding towns.

Modern Machinery

At the Benson farm, modern machinery was displayed and demonstrated. Grass farming, a comparatively new farming idea was explained. Those on tour were able to see the grass chopper in operation and the filling of the silo.

John Benson pointed out contour stripping he had laid out 11 years ago to prevent soil erosion. He showed the group the blower, baler and chopping machines, and the new manure gutter-cleaner which is operated on a chain-belt process.

Grain Crops

Also raised on the Benson farm are oats, wheat, and corn; and it was last year that 30-head of milk cows produced 151,477 quarts of milk.

The farm sells milk, eggs, poultry, hogs, cattle, and wheat.

Final stop on the tour was at the F. W. Byers and Sons farm.

Again the modern grass farming idea had replaced older methods, and illustrative of this was the use of three 12 by 40 foot silos for storing grass.

The Byers' raise corn, oats, and wheat; and they boil, pasteurize, bottle, and sell their milk. They also are equipped with the most modern farm machinery including the manure gutter cleaner, hay baler, combine, field forage harvester, ensilage blower, and others.

F. W. Byers was the first to plant Ladina clover in Lawrence County. The clover when planted with blue grass, presumably produces better pasture.

Successful Four

Much of the success for the tour can be attributed to the work of chairman of the Agricultural committee chairman Dale Currie, and committee members L. C. Dayton, Walter Gross, Jacob Bangardner, and George Weinschenk. Working with the committee were James A. Rugh, president of the GNCA, and Eben L. Reid, executive vice-president.

Ohio, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Gov. Henry Schricker of Indiana also is at the meeting but Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky cancelled his plans to attend.

Barkley will speak Saturday night at a joint banquet meeting of the conference and the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association.

Other issues up for discussion include price control, the national emergency and the furor arising from the stoppage of $20 million annually in federal welfare funds for Indiana because of a new state law publicizing welfare rolls.

Welfare publicity has become a national issue since several states have enacted measures similar to the Indiana law and others are contemplating such legislation.

To Blast Controls

At tonight's banquet, Ray Madenoff, Gary, Ind., will blast the diluted price controls bill passed by Congress. Major share of the blame for watering down of the law was placed by President Truman on Indiana's GOP Senator Capehart.

Another Indiana delegate, Winfield K. Denton of Evansville, will assail the Republican-controlled state legislature in the welfare issue while defending federal security administrator Oscar R. Ewing, who stopped the Indiana welfare allowances.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle will discuss price controls at the French Lick conference. He is slated to address a luncheon sponsored by women tomorrow. Mrs. India Edwards, Democratic national vice-chairman, will preside.

National defense takes the spotlight tomorrow night when Navy Secretary Kimball will be the featured speaker. Others on the program are Fred Korth, deputy counsel for the department of the army and Roosevelt L. Gilpatrick, assistant air force secretary.

income individuals heavier than the House plan, while letting top bracket people off much easier.

One member said the committee wanted to "take the hump out" of the tax table to equalize the burden but commented dryly:

"The trouble is, you take it out at one point and it pops up at another."

It was indicated that the committee wanted tables prepared showing the total tax each category would pay, rather than the increase percentage-wise.

Several Days

The mixup caused some committee members to predict privately that the committee would not finish the study of individual levies and pass on to corporation taxes for several days.

The Senate plan, as adopted tentatively, would add a defense tax of three per cent on income under $2,000 after all deductions and present taxes are subtracted, and add four per cent on such income over $2,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, Atlantic Avenue, were arrested by Probation Officer Don Dinsmore last night on a charge of neglect of children.

The inquiry resulted from a complaint to Policewoman Mary Jane Nord who communicated with Mr. Dinsmore.

They state that the children, who were taken to the New Castle hospital, were suffering from impetigo. The information, signed by Dinsmore, was sworn to at the aldermanic office of Margaret Orres, Sixth ward.

PURGE OF A MEMORY

After the last of the old Bolsheviks still alive had been purged in Stalin's Russia some was remarked: "If Lenin were alive today, he would be dead." Lenin died on January 22, 1924, but he is still too much alive to suit Stalin. So now, it appears, a way has been found to make him dead.

A casual announcement by the Moscow radio, as heard in London, stated that January 22 will no longer be celebrated as a holiday in the Soviet Union. It has been cancelled, according to the Red radio, because of public demand. To loaf and enjoy oneself, Soviet workers have suddenly realized in large numbers, is not the appropriate way to honor the anniversary of the father of the workers' fatherland.

The Moscow radio did not say (though some may infer it) that visits to Lenin's tomb facing Red Square in Moscow will hardly be encouraged from now on, that the repeated embalming used to keep Lenin's body presentable to the throngs that viewed it through its glass case will be discontinued, or that the term "Marxism-Leninism," now used to describe all Soviet policies, will at the appropriate time be replaced by "Marxism-Stalinism."

But it is safe to deduce that the memory of Lenin is to be permitted to fade, that Communists sensitive to the chill winds that blow under the high ceilings of the Kremlin and down the cell blocks reserved for political offenders will begin to avoid the name of Lenin, and that presently in Russia there is to be no god but Stalin.

The process of Stalin's deification, as many writers have pointed out, has gone to unbelievable lengths in Russia. Small school children memorize verses thanking him as the author of all their blessings. Grownup writers and scientists and artists testify publicly that their work could not have been completed without the ever-present inspiration of Stalin. His gargantuan pictures stare down every street and peer around every corner. Lenin is only a recumbent figure in a tomb.

But that is not good enough. Lenin was not purged. He was never forced to confess that he conspired with Stalin only knows what foul foreign factions to destroy the sacred achievements of Stalin the big father. It would be too risky at the moment to try to blacken his name and rewrite history once more to deny his role as revolutionary leader.

But it is at least possible to secularize a holiday. On each future January 22, those Russians who loafed to honor Lenin will now sweat to anoint Stalin.

TIGHTENING THE GUARD

The State Department has now begun a belated campaign to protect United States embassies throughout the world from Communist espionage.

Security measures taken, or about to be taken, include the use of additional Marine guards, the assignment to diplomatic posts of full-time, professional security officers, replacement of alien employees abroad by American citizens, and a thorough screening and constant surveillance of persons employed by embassies as servants and chauffeurs.

These precautions are of such an elementary character a special recommendation for their adoption would seem to have been unnecessary. Yet they are the by-product of a report which a Senate subcommittee made after a tour last year of U.S. embassies in Europe.

Apparently, if these Senators had not gone to Europe, looked the situation over at American embassies and recommended such elementary security measures, the State Department would have taken no action along this line. There's something rotten, and not in Denmark.

'A' FOR EFFORT

The 10 senators who have introduced a resolution calling for world disarmament are engaged in a futile performance. What's more, they admit. They say quite frankly that they have no immediate hope that Russia will go along with the program.

Time after time the Soviet Union has indicated that it will accept no disarmament plan which does not leave it in a better position than any other nation. It has refused to entertain the thought of submitting its military situation to an inspection by outsiders.

While the senators' objective is entirely desirable, the best that can be done, therefore, is to give the 10 "A" for effort.

Recently 15,000 cars were caught in a traffic jam in New York City, confirming its claim to the title of biggest hick city.

An Old Timer is one who can remember when sin was called sin, instead of delinquency, impropriety, indecorum, indiscretion, irregularity, laxity and moral turpitude.

General Eisenhower says it is ridiculous to be afraid of Russia. But who else is there in the world to scare taxes out of the American people?

According to a survey, only two of every three marriages turn out happily. Which is a high average, considering that material Cupid is forced to work with.

Joe Stalin must feel occasionally that it is getting harder and harder to remain an enigma.

Truce Talk Propaganda

Six weeks of Korean armistice talks have not produced much to do except a sort of undeclared truce—and lots of propaganda.

For the first time a UN delegate at the Kaesong talks, Brig. Gen. William K. Nukols, has suggested the possibility of a potential split between Red China and North Korea's Soviet-backed leaders.

This is just a suggestion, no more concrete than Nukols' statement that he got an "impression" that North Korean chief delegate Nam Il, the former school teacher, gets his instructions from "within the communist hierarchy."

Separate Channels

Nukols seeks to contrast this with a belief that the two Chinese delegates "have a separate channel" of instruction.

People quick to seize upon a possible North Korean-Chinese split will not be heartened, however, by Nukols' added statement that these "separate instructions" manage "to coincide on major issues."

Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, UN negotiator, is quite frank in his assessment of the deadlock talks. He told reporters "you figure it out."

Many western leaders believe the Chinese communists actually want an armistice to cut their heavy losses in Korea, losses in valuable equipment as well as manpower.

The UN also, of course, wants an armistice, and made a concession to the communists originally by allowing the site of the armistice talks to be located at Kaesong—south of the 38th parallel, although most of the UN military line is north of that boundary.

The truce talks have veered between scowls and thin smiles. The communists can turn it on and off. Just when the talks seem to be hopelessly deadlocked the Reds put in a few conciliatory words and western hopes rise again.

To Break Deadlock

A few of these conciliatory words led to what now is called a subcommittee. The purpose of the subcommittee is to break the deadlock existing in the full committee.

Just how this is to be done is not known, but the subcommittee quickly was termed a "shirt-sleeves" session, implying that the subcommittee was going to buckle down more so than the full committee. That implication has not been borne out.

It still is just speculation, but it still stands: the communists

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NOISY CLASSROOM BAD FOR CHILDREN

There are still many classrooms where there are excessive restraints, where the child is unduly hampered from freedom to move about with a worthy purpose, where needless stillness and quietness are demanded.

On the other hand, there also are some classrooms in which children are allowed to make excessive noises, noises which hinder other children and the teacher in their best efforts. In some such classrooms, especially in the grades, children are not only allowed to move about freely and talk aloud to one another about the work they are doing together in small groups—which can be excellent without interfering with the work of other groups or individuals in the classroom—but also permitted to talk aloud when there is no reason they should, and thus prove a great hindrance to others in the classroom.

Hindrance To Others

Even when children in a group are talking aloud about their own work, and not engaged in being annoyances or purpose, they can be a hindrance to others. I've sat as an observer in primary classrooms when children who were drawing or making things while another group was reading silently or in a group, were talking aloud to themselves or others about what they were doing, with no apparent purpose.

In other classrooms of the intermediate grades, I've observed the teacher attempting to give assignments or information meant for the entire class when she observed that she was not heard by most of the children as she tried to speak above the many loud voices dwelling on all sorts of other matters.

Skillful Teachers

Be it said that some of these teachers are so skillful at motivating most of their children at learning, that they seem to be getting far better results with their children in terms of learning than the average teacher does. But when these children move to a higher grade with a teacher not so gifted at inspiring interest, they may still go on talking aloud a great deal, and thus may disturb the teacher and their classmates to a great degree, even for years and years. Besides, children who have rarely or never restrained themselves during certain desirable periods from talking aloud in the classroom, have had poor training for listening and conforming reasonably in such groups as Cub Scouts.

No-Talking Periods

It seems to me that the teacher in the primary grades would do well at practicing her children in periods of no-talking-aloud to one another, when such talking aloud has no purpose or proves a disturbance to others.

No matter how much freedom might well be allowed during certain rather definite periods, it's hard to justify a classroom procedure in which children don't practice at certain other definite periods on self-imposed quietness. Of one thing I'm very sure—any teacher who often addresses a whole group or class while one or several children are talking, is giving these children poor training in self-control and practical citizenship, as well.

may deliberately be marking time so that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko can pull a surprise announcement at the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco next month, and try either to torpedo that session or greatly weaken it.

The communist propaganda radio broadcasts in fact seem to be concentrating more than before on the impending Sept. 4-8 San Francisco meeting.

Considered Warlike

The Chinese communist station has warned Japan that if it signs a peace treaty without Moscow and Peking the action will be considered an "act of war."

This statement loses much of its intended strength, however, at a time when the combined forces of communist China and North Korea are seeking an armistice in Korea and have been pushed deep behind the 38th parallel.

Even if the communists do not really want a formal armistice there would be advantages for them if the present stalemate continues and is limited mainly to patrol actions.

American military strength still would be tied down on the Korean peninsula. And the communists could get much needed reinforcement and reorganization time before charting their next move—political or military.

Mapping of Mt. McKinley has been accomplished and we can now look for a new ranch house development with running snow in every room.

The only thing is those 30-year mortgages are shrinking... Somebody decided that the economies were a little off balance when 30-year mortgages were being raised on 20-year houses.

It was a good idea on paper as most of the artificial economic principles of the day.

But the 30-year mortgage was something like a roller coaster ride. Entrance fee cheap, sounds like fun but whether it is difficult to get off midway without getting hurt.

And if you do get to the end of the ride, was it really as good as you thought it would be?

Anyway no one ever can say we aren't optimists... Few pessimists would sign up their future for 30 years or even 20 as blithely as we do it.

I don't know whether it's American "know how" or "how now."

He was born in London, England, Sept. 26, 1877, and went on the stage in 1895, making his first success in Bernard Shaw's Man and Superman. His first New York appearance on the stage was in The Voice from the Mimir. His Hollywood films include Earl of Chicago, The Doctor Takes a Wife, Pride and Prejudice, Foreign Correspondent, The Devil and Miss Jones, Scotland Yard, Charley's Aunt, A Yank at Eton, etc. He won the Academy Award for his part in Miracle of 34th Street when he played Kris Kringle. He played in Apartment for Peggy; he was Rosalind Russell's father in Woman of Distinction, and he plays the part of a gentle priest in Peking Express.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Took a little time off last week... and did what the children wanted. Took 'em swimming... well, now I wasn't too hot on that idea... it's been a long time since I exposed this form in a swimming suit... There were no mirrors handy so I suppose those people sitting on sidelines were smiling at the little fellow... he's real cute with an innubute, waterwings, feet flappers, and water goggles.

The sun came out nice and warm... and it was rather pleasant riding out to the pool... the chatter was coming from all three, and it rather boosted my morale... "Pap's going swimming," they sang to their friends as we waved to each passing face. The dressing room was crowded, but the boys backed me into a corner and after getting accustomed to the dim lights, the old bathing suit was finally fitted. They tripped out the door and through the footbath and shower as if it wasn't there... They must keep ice water in those footbaths... and the shower just has to originate on a snow-top mountain.

A likely spot was picked for our beach towels... and then as I stood there gazing around... the girl dives in... and then the oldest boy... the little fellow felt sorry for the old duffer and he just slid down the steps, easy like. Well, they did their tricks and then with grins from ear to ear... came dripping from the pool. "Dad, you must go in," well, I knew I must for the "little woman" had said just as we started, "bet your father doesn't get wet"... well now, I can't stand to have a bet lost... especially at home. So I held my breath and took the plunge... They said the water was warm... well, it didn't feel too bad once the circulation started again.

Eventually I was permitted to sit on the towels... and then I got real interested in the pool. Seems as if the young ladies don't wear the same kinda suit they used to... you know what, the kids didn't want a home... and if you'll pardon me right now... I hear them calling... and you know what?... this time I'm going to take my glasses along.

CALIFORNIA, HERE WE COME!

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Truman Or Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Necessity is the mother of a lot of things besides invention. In his polite letter to the Republican members of the senate rules committee, Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin said he would not ask them to sign a minority report on the investigation into the Republican campaign in Maryland last fall.

The reason, of course, is that they had indicated they did not intend to sign it. In a choice between Senators Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Robert Hendrickson of New Jersey on the one hand, and McCarthy on the other, the Republican leadership sided with the two senators who sided with the Democrats in not denouncing the tactics used in Maryland. McCarthy and his assistant, Miss Jean Kerr, played an important part in that campaign, as the majority report points out.

Wherry On Spot

As ranking minority member of the rules committee, Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska was in a somewhat difficult position. He had named the lady from Maine and Senator Hendrickson as the two Republicans on the subcommittee to investigate the campaign of doubt and smear in Maryland. Wherry is also minority leader of the senate.

In this difficult situation Wherry handled himself with skill and considerable forthrightness. Having privately told Mrs. Smith and others that he approved the majority report, he did not entirely recede from that position. He said that the investigation should have been much broader in scope since dirty campaign tactics were by no means confined to what had happened in Maryland, or to the year 1950.

With that statement no one can quarrel. Actually, if election laws in Maryland were strengthened, a much broader base of information is essential. As Wherry readily acknowledged, laws covering election practices are today far too lax, providing almost an invitation for the expenditure of huge sums of money through high-powered public relations experts who carry on character assassination while the candidate makes speeches filled with pious platitudes.

Second Time

This is the second time that the Republican leadership has backed away from McCarthy. The first time was when a behind-scenes report to put him on the senate policy committee was thwarted by Senator Eugene Millikin of Colorado.

The plan had been to give McCarthy a place without bringing the issue to a vote of the committee. But Millikin refused to have any part in that arrangement. It would not happen, Millikin said, without a vote on which members could be recorded. And almost certainly the way in which individual Republicans voted would have become public.

So the matter was shelved. No one has brought it up again. Quite a few Republicans came around.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Dr. Pullman, the society dentist, tried desperately to soothe his richest but most difficult patient, a Mrs. Gruber. "Don't shake your arms like a semaphore and make those faces at me," he begged. "I haven't even started drilling yet." "I know you haven't," said Mrs. Gruber, "but you're standing on my corns."

An anxious bridegroom was applying for his first life insurance policy. The agent, filling out the form, asked the routine question. "Do you know what your parents died of?" The bridegroom admitted, "I don't exactly recall, but I'm quite sure it was nothing serious."

A shrewd fortune teller made a mother happy by assuring her that her infant son would be a world-famous character if he lived long enough. The mother asked, "What will he be famous for?" The fortune-teller answered, "For having lived so long."

Learn By Others' Mistakes

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

KEFLAVIC AIR BASE, ICELAND, Aug. 23.—"We try to learn our object lessons from the mistakes of other nations."

Lieut. Gen. Lawrence Kuter, commander of the Military Air Transport Service, gave me that for a policy statement as I set forth some two weeks ago on a 10,000-mile tour of MATS bases. I have found in Iceland a well-nigh perfect example of what Kuter was talking about.

In 1947 the Russian government purchased from Iceland about 50,000 tons of fresh-frozen fish, nearly the entire annual output of this export commodity. The Communist press here, where about one out of every five persons votes the Communist ticket, obediently whooped up the purchase as proof that Icelandic interests lay with the East. But a strange tale returned from Leningrad where local sailors had delivered the money-making cargoes. These sailors had seen their cargoes heedlessly dumped on the wharves and allowed to rot.

Financial Jinx

The episode, according to sources close to the government, put the final jinx of collaboration with Russia. The Icelanders are a proud and wise people. Their friendship is not for sale. They fully understand that mutual self-interest is the only basis for partnership. Two years after the fishy deal, Iceland joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But this doughty little nation, which first established a republican form of government as long ago as 930 A.D., commonly thinks of itself as:

"A stranger and afraid
In a world I never made."

Iceland has tried both isolationism and pacifism as its foreign policy, but neither has worked. The Norwegians and the Danes have possessed this island. The British occupied it against protest in 1940, and the U. S. held it under a protectorate agreement between 1941-46. Iceland maintains no armed forces on the theory that it takes two to make a war. But 1947-48 was the only span in modern times when the Icelanders were even nominally free from foreign entanglements. Early this year American forces began to return under the sponsorship of NATO.

Like Russians Less

It is not that the Icelanders like us more, but that they like the Russians less. This thin-soiled, volcanic, glacier-dotted island happens to lie athwart the North Atlantic seaways and skyways. It is a few miles closer to Moscow than to New York. It is a peace-time stepping stone, a war-time spring-board; it does not enjoy any real freedom of choice, only the choice between the evils of being an associate of the Western World or a vassal of imperialistic Russia.

But something pretty fascinating has taken place here in the past few months. Our military policy makers have refused to let good enough alone. They have set out to change the grin-and-bear-it attitude of the inhabitants into something more positive. The Marshall Plan has been in here for over three years, and it hasn't proved that we can "buy friendship" any more readily than the Russians can. But the military men have gone ahead on the principle that friendship and strength grow out of participation in a common cause—in this instance, the island's defense.

Well, look what's happening. Four Icelandic airmen have recently checked out as co-pilots on the American B-17s stationed here for air-sea rescue work. Although officially designated as commercial flyers, these airmen represent the very first military air reserve that Iceland has ever had. Not long ago the aviation union, to which these men belong, passed a resolution for the establishment of an Icelandic home guard. Quite recently Col. Andrew Moore, American base commander, was approached on the subject of training a squadron of Icelandic fighter pilots.

Tiny Beginnings

These, of course, are tiny beginnings, but they are signs that American leadership is coaxing this republic to abandon its pacifism of 10 centuries' standing.

An angel's eye view of the matter might not warrant much rejoicing. There'll be no joy in heaven over the fact that a new nation of 150,000 people may soon be learning the art of human slaughter. But from the viewpoint of Atlantic defense, it's good news. And as a matter of pride, it's heartening to see American military leaders who are able to strike fire from stones which hitherto been so many inert lumps. Also, it's quite a discovery, even in the homeland of Leif Ericsson, to find out that a nest of neutralism may become the stronghold of a fighting ally.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

It's too bad you couldn't have attended the auction in Spokane of Virginia Hill's belongings.

You could have bought some real bargains: A .25-caliber pistol, complete with two boxes of shells, for $36. A leather belt, $10. A white faille dress, with velvet bows, which cost new $450, brought $40. There were also 100 pairs of shoes.

And, in addition, you could have had one h— of a good time. "Holiday Through Lively Bidding at Virginia Hill Tax Auction," said the headline in my newspaper.

"It was a gay holiday, crown," the paper went on to say, "mostly women. Some brought their lunch."

Why is it that here in America we make almost everything a joke? Virginia Hill was the sweetheart of Bugsy Siegel, the slain gangster. She has, profitably, enjoyed the company of many men. I doubt that any decent American mother would let her daughter with her.

Yet, at that auction, hundreds of respectable mothers bid on the various articles and enjoyed themselves.

Virginia Hill's whole life is connected with murder, gambling, underworld activities.

Yet, this same person is made the occasion for a circus.

Is this disgusting spectacle any less unsavory than the Kefauver investigation itself?

Much good was done by the investigation, no doubt. But the way it was conducted did not contribute much to its effectiveness.

How can our children benefit from an investigation which is made into a television show?

Senator Tobey's histrionics, Senator Kefauver's commercialization of his role in the investigation, Rudolph Halley's use of it as a stepping stone into politics, all were "very good theatre," but certainly not very good "justice."

But it's all our own fault.

We want bread and circuses. We must make a show out of everything.

At any murder trial people—and particularly the women—fight one another for choice seats.

And, if the murderer is sentenced to be put to death, the authorities could sell tickets to the execution at fancy prices.

I think it is time America grew up.

Crime isn't child's play. Make television stars out of criminals and soon you will make criminals out of the children who watch them perform in front of the screen.

Glories a Virginia Hill—with her mink coats, her 100 pairs of shoes, her $450 dresses—and soon your daughter will ask herself whether it pays to be good.

Or has "The Wages of Sin is Death" been changed to "The Wages of Sin is Mink"?

Bible Thought

The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped; therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will I praise him. Psalm 28: 7.

Princess Margaret got a 90-mile-an-hour roadster for her birthday. The younger generation of the royal family is apparently going places.

The earth, say scientists, has about 60,000 quakes per year. The old globe, it seems, has the nervous jimmies—geologically as well as politically.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It: BY H. T. WEBSTER

MARK TWAIN WAS STROLLING IN THE PARK ONE DAY WHEN A LITTLE GIRL PATTED UP TO HIM AND ASKED IF SHE COULD WALK WITH HIM.

HIGHLY FLATTERED, TWAIN TOLD HER STORIES FOR AN HOUR, THEN GAVE HER A NICKEL, AND SAID, "NOW RUN ALONG HOME—AND WHEN YOU GROW UP YOU CAN TELL YOUR FRIENDS YOU ONCE WALKED WITH MARK TWAIN."

"MARK TWAIN" ECHOED THE LITTLE GIRL, BURSTING INTO TEARS. "I THOUGHT YOU WERE BUFFALO BILL!"

WHAT DID MARK TWAIN SAY TO THAT?

A shrewd fortune teller made a mother happy by assuring her that her infant son would be a world-famous character if he lived long enough. The mother asked, "What will he be famous for?" The fortune-teller answered, "For having lived so long."

Average Farmer's Age In Pennsylvania Over 50

HARRISBURG, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers have been cited as proof that advancing age should not be considered a reason for discrimination against otherwise skilled and able-bodied workers.

Pennsylvania farm bureau executive R. N. Benjamin reminded the regional defense manpower administration committee at Philadelphia recently that the average age of the state's farmers is over 50.

Use All Workers
Benjamin, agriculture's only representative on the 14-member panel, warned that full production can be achieved only if complete use is made of competent workers in the state.

Pointing out that only 15 per cent of the nation's population is producing all of the nation's farm goods, he asked:

"What would happen if agriculture as an industry failed to utilize the services of men over 50 years of age?"

Benjamin emphasized that the farm population of the nation has been declining each year and farmers have been able to increase production constantly only by spending large sums on labor-saving machinery.

"What ever we do," he cautioned, "let's not condone a practice or a precedent that will hurt or reduce the 15 per cent employed in agriculture. Any reduction in these ranks can lead to food and fiber shortage which may seriously affect 100 per cent of the people."

Benjamin insisted "we cannot afford to diminish our farm manpower."

"In fact, more of it is needed now," he said. "There's a limit to what one man can do with even the best of our modern machinery."

Pennsylvania farmers put 51,490 bushels of their 1950 corn crop under Commodity Credit Corporation price support through the first half of this year.

The entire amount represented farm-storage loans, according to Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the state production and marketing administration committee.

Nationally the total is nearly 54 million bushels of the 1950 corn crop under price support, he said, compared with 385 million bushels of the 1949 crop under support for the comparable period of the preceding year.

Next year's 4-H club week at Pennsylvania State college will have the benefit of suggestions from 11 delegates to this year's session.

State 4-H leader Allen L. Baker said the 1952 program will include ideas offered by them during this year's club week which set a new high of 1184 registrations.

Smaller discussion groups and more time for studying placings made in the many judging events are being considered, said Baker. All suggestions were in keeping with the educational nature of the state-wide event, he added.

ped napalm (jellied gasoline) bombs and had strafed the neutralized conference city.

Ridgway said his announcement was based on "investigations and reports by air force and navy commanders."

The UN supreme commander added that the Communist allegation had been "thoroughly investigated." He cited an on-the-spot inquiry made in Kaesong early Thursday by Allied liaison officers at the invitation of the Communists.

Joy Reports

Ridgway's statement cited a previously announced preliminary report by his chief armistice delegate, Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy.

The supreme commander said "it has been brought out before (in Joy's report) that the (Red) decision to declare all meetings 'off from this time'—which required a decision from the high-level command—could not have been arrived at and transmitted" by a Communist liaison officer within two hours and 25 minutes.

This was the interval that elapsed from the hour the Reds said Kaesong had been bombed until 1:45 a.m. Thursday, the hour when a North Korean liaison officer delivered to a UN liaison party the decision to break off the talks.

Some 18 hours after the North Korean office announced the suspension during a pre-dawn meeting under a pelting rain in Kaesong, radio Peiping aired a different version. Indicating an anticipated Red bid to renew the parley, the broadcast from Communist China's capital stated:

One Day Only

"According to a telegram dispatched at 7:30 p.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT) from Kaesong by the new China News agency concerning the bombing incident, the Communists have broken off the meeting of the 23rd of August. This means the meeting of the 23rd only."

The broadcast added that "if the Americans do not answer with sincerity, we might have to take new procedures." The phrase "new procedures" was not explained.

Later—at 10:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EDT)—the Peiping radio repeated the same "bulletin," stating the Red suspension applied only to Thursday's scheduled meeting of the conference subcommittee created to seek a solution of the buffer zone deadlock.

remarkably sensitive to changes in the political wind. While the McCarthy technique may have been demonstrably effective in last year's campaign, those with both ears to the ground believe a shift has taken place. President Truman, who has never been accused of being an inept politician, seems determined to make McCarthyism a major issue next year.

While polls do not measure sentiment to the last fraction of a heart beat, as 1948 demonstrated, there lately have been some significant tallies. The Gallup survey showed that of 37 per cent with opinion on McCarthy, 22 per cent were vigorously opposed, 15 per cent equally strong in their support. Thirty per cent had never heard of the senator from Wisconsin; 37 per cent were undecided. Texas voters were asked in the Texas poll how they would vote if General Eisenhower were running as a Republican and Truman as a Democrat. Sixty-three per cent were for Ike, 29 per cent for Truman and 8 per cent undecided. A statewide poll in Minnesota showed Harold Stassen, the favorite son, with 38 per cent, Ike with 30, General MacArthur with 11 and Senator Taft with six.

However crude the measuring stick, the meaning of these tests seem fairly clear. The voters do not want Truman, but the only alternative they thus far have seen whom they do want is General Eisenhower.

knew the IPR as "a captive organization completely under the control of the Communist party."

The witness also told the senators that Owen Lattimore, the main target of the McCarthy communists-in-government charges last summer, was identified as "a member of a communist cell" at a meeting of the party's U. S. politburo.

The Budenz testimony added up to a stronger charge of communism against Lattimore and the IPR than has yet been voiced at the hearings.

Under Red Control

Budenz said the institute was completely under communist control, although its members were not all communists. And he quoted Red "cultural commissar" Alexander Trachtenberg as calling IPR the "little red school house for teaching certain people in Washington how to think of the Soviet Union in the Far East."

Lattimore, who edited the IPR's magazine "Pacific Affairs," has frequently denied communist ties. Budenz declared under oath, however, that Lattimore was under communist instruction and that he, in fact, served to transmit policy from international party leaders to their American underlings.

TWIN PONDS EPILOGUE

Crabs For August Bass

All experienced bass fishermen have been tantalized by their quarry's refusal to take anything offered. They just merely cruise about in the clear water arrogantly turning up their noses at even the most savory worms or attractively presented minnow.

Late August bass are temperamental to an extreme. Finesse, skill or soft shelled crabs are usually required. It's queer how bass will go for soft crabs even though the succulent crustacean may be entirely alien to the waters inhabited by the fish. Oh, there are times when the angler may catch the fish off-guard at odd minutes during the day or more frequently at night, and take them with most anything. But as it has already been pointed out that's the exception rather than the rule.

Lake Erie bass are no exceptions. Last week fishermen fishing off or adjacent to the west retaining wall of the harbor entrance were confounded by the fishes' utter refusal to take anything but crabs. Anglers fortunate enough to have them did a land office business.

Our efforts with everything we had were useless so far as bass were concerned. We had no crabs except a new plastic creation that is supposed to feel, smell and taste like one. A batch of various sizes was sent to me for trial, but they had completely slipped my mind until we had readied up to go home. Anyway, as I recalled they didn't look any too promising.

True, they felt like a freshly shed crawfish, and perhaps, smelled like them, but I can't vouch for the taste although I nibbled one of the larger ones.

Twin Ponds Again

That evening we stopped off at the twin ponds to try them out on the bass that have been capriciously responsive. It can be said of them that when they're on they're on, but most of the time they just ain't.

We arrived there at that mystic hour immediately after sunset when everything seems to be at peace with the rest of the world. A robin who had forgotten or ignored the moulting season was cheerily caroling away from atop a red maple that was already beginning to assume its autumn livery. Anyway, it was good to be alive.

The bass put on their usual display, parading their finned strength in the clear water before us. One, two, three, four wallowing largemouths slid through the aquatic growths as though on review.

"They're a bunch of bluffers," observed Art.

"And four-flushers," added Bob. "I'll warrant they know that we're itching to get them and they'll let us suffer with our misery."

"Wait till I offer them one of my crabs," I hopefully offered.

The silence following my remark was eloquent.

The Surprise

When the shore shadows began mingling with those on the water we went to work; my companions with surface plugs and I with the largest of my plastic crabs.

The lure promptly sank to the bottom of the four-foot depth into which I had cast it. Almost immediately there was a strike so powerful as to jerk my arm like some hand shakes I have known. At my yell my companions suspended activities to watch the fun.

The only action was a lot of powerful pulling. I tugged as much as my tackle permitted.

"That's no bass," remarked some one.

I continued pulling until the fish or whatever it was broke clear. Then it came in, but grudgingly. I visualized a large snapping turtle and said as much.

"That's a fish," pronounced Bob. And it was. A fine four-pound silver catfish.

Bass? Nary a one.

France Favors Revised Treaty With Italians

By ELIE MAISSI
PARIS, Aug. 23 — France announced Wednesday it has started negotiations with the United States and Britain aimed at revising the Italian peace treaty.
A foreign office spokesman said France favors either a general revision approved by the U.N. Security Council when Italy is admitted to the U.N.
The French spokesman suggested that the conclusion of negotiations might come between now and next month's various international and Atlantic Pact talks.
Demands Modification
A French foreign office spokesman said the French government initiated negotiations with the U.S. and Britain aimed at "moral restoration" of Italy from the "humiliating" state of the peace treaty signed in 1947.
There has been a rising demand in Italy for modification of the treaty and Premier Alcide De Gasperi recently assumed the foreign ministry portfolio so he could press more vigorously Italy's demands.
De Gasperi last July told the Senate Italy might quit the Atlantic Pact if the U.S., Britain and France do not make good on their March, 1948, declaration that Trieste should be returned to Italy.
Soviet Russia has blocked fulfillment of the Big Three Western declaration. Yugoslavia, which holds part of the Trieste free territory, also has protested.
Italy also asked modification of the peace treaty to raise the 300,000-man limit on Italy's armed forces.
The libraries of Western Reserve University in Cleveland own 635,000 volumes.

Bail Is Reduced For Steve Nelson

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23. — (INS)—Chief Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick Wednesday reduced to $20,000 bail set for Steve Nelson, branded Pennsylvania's top Communist by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.
Judge Kirkpatrick ordered the reduction from the original $100,000 bail after Louis F. McCabe, Nelson's counsel, charged the figure was "too excessive."
The bail was set to insure Nelson's appearance at a further hearing before U.S. Commissioner Henry P. Carr on August 31. Nelson was seized by the FBI last Friday.
McCabe said Nelson was in poor physical condition and asked for bail of $5,000.
Judge Kirkpatrick commented: "I do not think the court should fix a bail he (the defendant) cannot possibly give just to keep him in jail."

Inspection of bicycles will be held between the hours of one p.m. and four p.m., Friday, at the city police garage, North Jefferson street.

Recreation Director Rees Flannery is preparing for a windup of playground proclivities at Cascade Park, next Monday.

Because of the condition of city finances, Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland has urged that every councilman use economical means this year.

Use Waiting Room For Dope Racket

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—A $500,000 a year dope racket which used the main waiting room of Bellevue hospital as its sales headquarters was smashed last night by three detectives who had posed as nurses, doctors and laborers.

Police arrested two men as they said a half ounce of pure heroin was changing hands.

One man was identified as Mariano Rubino, 42, who police said was the operator of the racket and kept regular business hours in the hospital waiting room, driving to and from work in a Cadillac. The other was identified as Arthur Ricciardi, 23, who police said was receiving the dope from Rubino.

Rubino, according to police, picked the waiting room of the huge city hospital, where up to 100 patients at a time wait for medical aid, as one of the safest places to conduct his traffic.

Rubino was not an employee of the hospital although he sometimes posed as a staff member. Once he ordered one of the detectives out of the basement while the latter was searching for Rubino's cache. Detectives said they finally located this in a hole cut in the ceiling of the engine room, confiscating 16 ounces of pure heroin worth $5,000 in the retail market.

Claims Spanish Soldiers Ready To Defend Peace

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The Spanish ambassador to the United States told the 69th annual Knights of Columbus convention Tuesday night that Spain has "many soldiers willing to fight" and "defend civilization against aggression."

Jose Felix de Lequerica assured 1,000 delegates in Pittsburgh that "We would participate in bilateral treaties with other peoples, or in co-operative movements acceptable to us." And praised the United States for beginning "practical contacts" with Spain.

He claimed the Spanish people are lined up solidly behind the regime of Generalissimo Franco, but conceded that his country does not have political unanimity.

Oppose Communism

The ambassador said "nowhere can you find a stronger will to oppose Communism" than Spain and then lashed out at other enemies whom he called "the fanatics who want to secularize both private and public life."

Other speakers at the dinner included Boston Judge John E. Swift, supreme knight of the organization; the Most Reverend John F. Dearden, bishop of Pittsburgh; and Mayor David L. Lawrence.

Asked if Russia had responded, the white-haired president said, "not yet. But I expect that they may like many other countries that have not responded, send a representative at the last minute."

Cops of Ravenna, Mich., are reported looking for a truly glue-fingered thief. He swiped the greased pigs at a county fair.

He said "polio is a problem that transcends national barriers, political 'iron curtains,' language and political differences. It needs and demands all international cooperation."

O'Connor noted that all countries of the world have been invited to meet in Copenhagen and to date 35 countries have notified him they will be officially represented.

Responsibility In Public Life

CHRISTIANS MUST OBEY GOD RATHER THAN MAN, SAID ST. PETER

Matthew 5:13-16; 13:33; Luke 19:1-10; Acts 5:25-29; 1 Peter 3:13-18

Zacchaeus in the sycamore.

"For it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing."—1 Peter 3:17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Responsibility is a word meaning the state or quality of being responsible; accountability; also moral accountability; reliability. Few indeed are the persons who have no responsibilities. Even a small child may have certain duties for which he is responsible.

There are times when we wonder if the feeling that we are accountable for our duties, jobs, etc., has disappeared from human behavior. Parents neglect their children; husbands and wives their mates; young people neglect their studies; people with jobs—even executives—sometimes slight their positions; and ordinary workers often loaf on the job and take undue liberties with it.

Of course, there are millions who take their responsibilities seriously and discharge them faithfully. Far more do their duty than neglect it, but we hear more about those who are negligent, so that sometimes it seems as if everyone is guilty.

"Ye are the salt of the earth," said Jesus; but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is henceforth good for nothing but to be cast out, and to be trodden under the foot of men."

Salt stored too long and especially in a damp place, will lose its goodness, and it cannot be thrown into the field or garden, for it would kill everything it touched. It must be thrown out into the street where it can be trodden under foot, or into a barren place where it can do no harm.

"Ye are the light of the world," Jesus continued. "A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid."

"Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. 'Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

This saying of Christ's does not mean that we should boast of our good deeds—of our acceptance and performance of our duties—but that we should so live, as did Christ Himself, that people can readily see what it means to be a real follower of the Master.

"The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a women took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened."

That parable seems to this writer to mean that as yeast added to flour and other ingredients, makes the whole lump of dough light, so does the gospel of Christ permeate the whole of life and make Christians fit for the kingdom of God.

Passing through Jericho, Jesus, looking up, saw Zacchaeus, a publican and a man of very small stature, who had climbed into a tree the better to see Him. Jesus called to the man to come down, as He would bide with him that night.

Zacchaeus came down quickly, and said: "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold."

And Jesus answered, "This day is salvation come to this house." This publican—or tax gatherer for the Romans was hated by the Jews. He was not paid a stated salary, as are our tax collectors, but grew rich from the taxes he collected. He bought the privilege of collecting these taxes for a large sum, and what he collected was his.

Peter and the other apostles had been preaching and teaching, and healing so that their fame had spread, and many were both healed of their physical ailments and converted to Jesus.

The jealous priests laid hold on them and threw them into the common prison, bidding them never to set foot in the temple again. That night an angel of God released them from prison, and when the morning came their jailers told the priests that when they opened the doors of the prison no one was inside. Then someone came and said the apostles were in the temple preaching. The Roman captain found them and brought them before the Sanhedrin without violence because he was afraid the people would stone his men.

The high priest asked them why they had disobeyed him, and Peter answered boldly, "We ought to obey God rather than men."

To obey the laws of the land is necessary and right, but when man commands us to do something that is not right, and our consciences rebel, we must obey God's will rather than man's. St. Peter wrote: "And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?" "But if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye; and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled."

"For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing." Many are suffering in the world today for the right to preach and practice their religion. Jesus Christ too, suffered for no sins of His own, but for our sakes.

State Farm Roundup

Fertilization Offers Way To Increase Southern Corn

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(INS)—Agriculture department scientists said today there is an "enormous potential" for increasing southern crop yields through fertilization.

After a state-by-state survey the scientists said the corn crop offers the most spectacular opportunity for increasing yield. According to estimates the present average yield of 26 bushels an acre can be tripled.

They said a combination of heavier fertilization, the use of adapted hybrids, close spacing and other good-management practices could do the job.

Additional Billion
This would have meant, for example, more than a billion additional bushels from the 24 million acres planted in 1949, and would have required an estimated 720,000 tons of nitrogen. However, total U. S. consumption of nitrogen in fertilizers in 1949 was a little more than a million tons.

The new survey studied the yields of 18 crops grown on more than 250 million acres in 13 southern states.

One immediate value of the survey is to indicate the best use of phosphoric acid, now in limited supply because of the sulphur shortage.

The scientists who made the study believe that moderate reduction can be made in superphosphate on crops and soils that have received heavy applications in the past. These include potatoes, vegetables, fruits and other specialty crops.

Southern farmers are currently giving the heaviest fertilization to the tobacco, vegetable, fruit and nut crops. For tobacco, planted on almost a million and a half acres in the south the rates are 37 pounds of nitrogen, 89 pounds of phosphoric acid and 64 pounds of potash an acre.

Getting 78 Per Cent
The crops and soils experts believe tobacco growers are getting about 78 per cent of the potential yields.

The scientists say what is currently fertilized in the south at rates of two pounds of nitrogen, four of phosphoric acid and two of potash an acre.

This gives an average yield of 14 bushels—but applications of 40 pounds of each of the plant nutrients per acre would raise wheat yields an average of an extra eight bushels.

The same application to cotton would bring present yields of 640 pounds an acre up about ten per cent.

Air Force Adds Observer Training To Cadet Program

U. S. air force is adding single observer training to its fast growing aviation cadet program, M/Sgt. H. O. Falls, local recruiting sergeant announced today.

This program now offers two types of training, pilot and navigator, with the third and newest type beginning on the first of September, this year. Qualifications are necessarily high and the program is aimed directly at the college student. The air force has been literally swamped with applications from college men for the aviation cadet training program—one of the most popular and rewarding careers in the armed forces today. And, due to the popularity of this program and the rapid expansion of the air force, many new flight training bases have been established.

Sgt. Falls stated that qualifications for the new observer program are the same as for navigator training.

Observer training provides for a course of training of approximately one year's duration, including six months of basic training (officer schooling, navigation and electronics), and the last six months of advanced training, with emphasis on specialized training. Aviation cadets who graduate from the advanced course will be awarded the commission of a second lieutenant and aeronautical rating of "aircraft observer." A most rewarding feature of this training is the pay of $415.75 (includes flight pay) per month. Newly commissioned officers also receive $250.00 with which to purchase uniforms.

Interested persons should contact Sgt. Falls at the Post Office Bldg., New Castle, for further information and the necessary application forms.

BUTCH AND GRANDAD

Butch and Grandad get along fine. Butch runs and jumps and tumbles while Grandad does the slow motion stuff.

Butch's bones are young and flexible. They will stand pretty hard usage.

Grandad's bones are hard and brittle. They are strong enough for good hard usage but need a little care. Jumping and tumbling and falling might break one and that would be a calamity for Grandad and Butch.

The hip bone seems to be the most dangerous. A broken hip for Grandad would be a pretty serious proposition.

Stair steps seems to be the most risky places. Stair rails and good lighting ought to help some.

Will Seek Cut Of One Billion In Foreign Aid

By ROSE MCKEE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally (D) Tex., announced he will move formally today for a one billion dollar cut in the administration's request for 2.2 billion dollars in foreign aid.

The slash would be roughly one-third deeper than that voted by the House. The House cut economic aid by $711,250,000.

Connally said he believes his joint foreign relations-armed services committee will approve the cut he advocates.

Connally's committee, in considering the overall Truman request for 8.5 billion dollars in foreign aid, also decided to:

1. Permit the point four program for sharing U.S. "know-how" with underdeveloped areas to remain under the jurisdiction of the State Department.

2. Approve as a separate bill a State Department request for 12 million dollars for the international children's fund, a United Nations agency founded to promote the health and welfare of the world's children.

Volant Pig Raiser Wins Third Prize

Young Dick Martin of Volant placed third with his pig in the twelfth annual Western Pennsylvania pig roundup and sale Wednesday in the Pittsburgh livestock yards. Martin's pig was entered in the heavyweight (250 pounds or more) class.

Pig entered by 13-year-old James McKee of Kittanning won the grand championship and the reserve title went to a pig owned by Ned Curtman, 15, of Sarver (Butler county).

The grand champion sold for $26.25 per hundred pounds, three dollars over the market price. The reserve winner sold for $25.25.

So far this year, official registration figures* show that truck users bought 43,406 more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That's because only Chevrolet Advance-Design trucks provide such a great combination of features at such low cost.

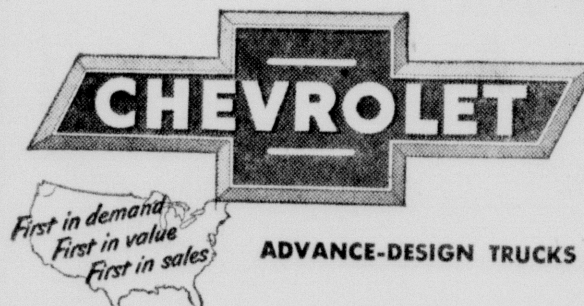

The working proof of what these features mean to truck users can be found in this fact: Chevrolet trucks are traditionally worth more after years of service than comparable models of other makes—even those costing many dollars more.

Playgrounds Ending Season Display Art And Handicraft

Winding up the season at the city playgrounds, the children are displaying some of the work they have done during the art and handicraft courses in Davis' store window. This is the third year the display has been in Davis' window. News company pictures of the display for 1949 and 1950 are also shown.

Some of the work done by the youngsters of New Castle is amazingly good. An example is the excellent leatherwork. Fantasy and whimsy are the main motif of the display although not dominating it.

All Playgrounds
Work has been contributed from all 14 of the city recreation program's playgrounds. They are Westside, Dean Park, Rose avenue, Mahoning, Farrell, Shenango, Pollock, Laurel, Harbor, Boyles, Gaston, Big Run and George Washington.

Handpainted figurines, dolls, jewelry, artificial flowers, wall plaques, needlework and wishing wells are a few of the many handmade items in the window. One brown and green wishing well in particular is very attractive.

One enterprising youngster has erected a semi tractor-trailer outfit. He has used odds and ends of cardboard, tin cans and a few pieces from an Erector set to achieve the effect of a workable truck.

Uses Ingenuity
This imaginative youngster has used a key-chain tag with the license number on it for the license number on his truck. The headlights on the truck are flashlight bulbs.

On the side of the truck is painted "Harry White, local and long distance hauling, telephone 6606". The truck is so constructed that one believes it actually runs.

Mrs. Morfydd O. Brown is the art and handicraft director of the city recreation. She and the different playground supervisors deserve many thanks for the time, work and effort they have contributed to the youngsters of New Castle during the summer. Reese V. Flannery is the director of city recreation.

Ulcer Victims Double In Decade

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—(INS)—At least 10 percent of all living males have suffered from stomach and intestinal ulcers. Dr. Edwin M. Cohn, University of Pennsylvania graduate hospital, told the National Medical Association yesterday that the number of ulcer victims had doubled in recent years.

Dr. Cohn said that a large percentage of victims could be treated successfully, but that 50 percent had reactivated symptoms.

Spanish War Veterans Hold Annual Picnic

Nice weather and a large attendance contributed to the good time had by the 5-15-16 regiments of the North Western Council of the United Spanish War Veterans and the auxiliary held in Grove City.

Twelve from New Castle attended. They were: Mr. and Mrs. John Carr, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whiteacre, Mr. and Mrs. Rees Lewis, Mrs. Emma Wood, Mrs. Josephine Hoover, Mrs. W. H. Williams and Mrs. Rose Porter.

At the regular meeting of the North Western district council in Oil City, Pa., following the picnic, Samuel Ross of the Oil City V.F.W. told the history of the veterans of foreign wars.

Mr. Ross, who was introduced by council president William Myers of Sharon, Pa., extended greetings from the John I. Carr camp and its auxiliary and the V.F.W. He stated that the United Spanish War Veterans had organized the V.F.W. and that all the veterans organizations and auxiliaries did more for the welfare of the government than any one else. He further stated that otherwise many veterans would be neglected. The North Western Council was organized in 1927 in Conneaut Lake Park.

Other speakers were then introduced. Department President, Mrs. Mae Jenkins of Pittsburgh; Department Commander, James Ames of Erie, Mrs. Myrtle Baker and Mrs. Cora Mawhinney of Franklin, both past department presidents.

The auxiliary business meeting was then presided over by Mrs. Emma Wood of New Castle. She was assisted by the Meadville color team which presented a lovely flag drill.

Officers were elected for 1952 and will be installed at the next meeting to be held in Butler, Pa., on October 14, 1951.

In testing a custard pie put a silver knife in the side of the filling to see if it comes out clean. The center may be a bit soft when the pie is done but it will set later.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Atomic age submarine of tomorrow may utilize a nuclear reactor for its power plant. This artist's conception shows how the reactor could be connected with a turbine and that in turn with a propeller. But the size and weight of the "atomic furnace," plus elimination of present-day batteries and fuel, would probably change the reactor's location, as well as the submarine design.

The horned toad has the power of ejecting fine jets of reddish fluid from its eyes. It would take about 30 million average hens to supply New York City with eggs. The right bank of a river is the bank to the right of a person looking downstream.

Ma Newc Has Her Say:

Understand Mrs. Pauline V. Isaac tries to help all friends, acquaintances and even those she just hears about that need help. . . . Although Mr. Denny, latest person to receive her untiring aid, is a friend, Mrs. Isaac helps anyone who can who needs help. . . . The world could use more people like Mrs. Isaac.

One of the women that works in Pa's office was telling me a discovery she has made concerning iced tea. . . . She says that a pepper-utrer for iced tea is a teaspoonful of thawed-out frozen lemonade mix added to a cup of tea. . . . It provides sugar and lemon at the same time. . . . Delicious.

Long live liquid plastic! . . . Applied to almost any surface it adds easy washability to walls, wallpaper, woodwork, wooden or metal furniture and umpteen other items. . . . Stains such as ink, crayon, lipstick, oil and kitchen greases can be washed off treated surfaces with a swish of a sudsy cloth. . . . Found this ideal for the kitchen, bath, and nursery. . . . Love the tiny fingers but don't appreciate the tiny prints on the walls. . . . This saves both our tempers.

Have heard that a revolutionary new oval-shaped household pail or bucket is now on the market. . . . Makes scrubbing easier. . . . Better fit for mops and brushes, quicker to fill and better to pour from. . . . That plus easier to carry and better balance on steps and ladder platforms.

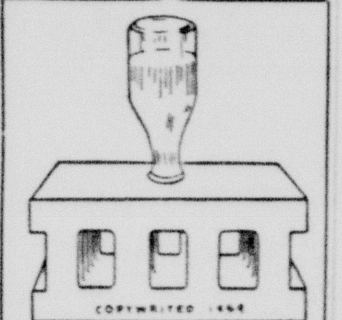

New Castle stores are featuring mix-and-match back to school clothing more than ever before this year. . . . For the most part, the clothes are soft, curved and very very feminine. . . . Feminine from the tweed skirts to the extra fluffy nightgowns.

Time for checking back to school clothing and equipment is now here. . . . Time to see about lunch pails, notebooks, pencils, proper light as well as adequate space for the youngsters' homework and the ever present problem, clothes for the growing child. . . . One of the main items on the list should be well fit, comfortable, sturdy shoes. . . . Local stores indicate that most parents in this area are taking the shoe business seriously. . . . Perhaps when these young ladies get a little older they will not try to crowd a size 8½ foot into a size 6½ shoe. . . .

More foot-doctors are kept busy because of that practice.
Friend of mine asked what to do about extra dry skin this time of year. . . . Asked an authority on the subject. . . . Was told that cleansing and lubrication with soap and water cannot be beat. . . . Although was told not to rinse with cold water but to use warm or tepid water instead. . . . Cold water closes oil glands and prevents the flow of natural oil.

A Labor Day outing suggestion. . . . Don't forget the Orange Crate Derby on Labor Day. . . . These youngsters have worked long and hard to perfect their "cars". . . . The affair is sponsored by the Optimists club with the unsung heroines, the Opt-Mrs., always somewhere in the background.

85th Birthday Marked By Autocar Founder

HAVERFORD, Pa., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Louis S. Clarke, founder of the Autocar company and the last survivor of the nation's automotive pioneers, celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary today at his Haverford home.

Clarke built his first car, a three-wheeled gasoline-powered vehicle in 1896. He formed the Pittsburgh Motor Vehicle company a year later subsequently moving it to Ardmore where the name was changed to the Autocar company.

The Autocar company is today the largest firm devoted exclusively to the manufacture of heavy duty trucks and highway tractors. Clarke attended Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh.

SPRAY NOW TO CONTROL FALL WEBWORMS

Fall webworms are feeding on the leaves of many shade trees, fruit trees and shrubs. Unless they are controlled, they may strip the leaves from several branches or the entire plant.

The caterpillars live within a flimsy white web. As they eat, the leaves within the web they enlarge the web to obtain more food. Later they will crawl down the tree trunks and may crawl on buildings.

The fall webworm is easily controlled with sprays before the worm becomes too large. Use two level tablespoons of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder per gallon of water and cover thoroughly the branches where the worms are feeding.

PREPARE SOIL FOR NEW LAWNS

September is the best month of the year for weeding a new lawn or renovating an old one. Before grass seed is sown, the soil should be prepared; this usually requires some time and work.

The lawn area should be graded with subsoil to six inches below grade before the topsoil is put in place. Next place six inches of topsoil over this area, and complete the final grade. If possible, let the soil settle for several weeks before doing the final smoothing job.

Regardless of how good the topsoil may be, add some lime (if needed), organic matter and superphosphate, and work into the soil.

Use a good grade of seed. At seeding time, use a mixed fertilizer. After seeding, roll the lawn with a light roller.

You may secure a leaflet on "Lawn Construction" from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This leaflet gives additional information about making a lawn.

TIPS ON BUYING WATER HEATERS

Buy the type of hot water heater that best meets your needs. The volume of hot water you will need every day, the amount of laundering, the size of the family, and personal habits of family members will influence the kind and size of heater you will need.

It is estimated that each member of the household uses about 12 gallons of hot water daily, and that a 30-gallon hot water tank is the minimum for a bathroom, two-bedroom house. It is not advisable to base your needs on the minimum, for an overworked system may prove more expensive and less serviceable than one that operates at normal capacity.

If you select a gas water heater be sure that it has a control that will shut off the main burner should the pilot light go off. When you set the thermostat higher for very hot water, 180 to 195 degrees, Fahrenheit, that you will need for washing clothes, remember to turn it back to 140 degrees after the washing is finished. This not only saves on the fuel bill but also prevents scalding the hands.

STUFF CELERY

For company fare stuff celery with a mixture of Roquefort cheese and finely chopped almonds, cut in short sticks and serve on salad greens with French dressing.

Ma Newc Has Her Say:

Understand Mrs. Pauline V. Isaac tries to help all friends, acquaintances and even those she just hears about that need help . . . Although Mr. Denny, latest person to receive her untiring aid, is a friend, Mrs. Isaac helps anyone she can who needs help . . . The world could use more people like Mrs. Isaac.

One of the women that works in Pa's office was telling me a discovery she has made concerning iced tea . . . She says that a pepper-upper for iced tea is a teaspoonful of thawed-out frozen lemonade mix added to a cup of tea . . . It provides sugar and lemon at the same time . . . Delicious.

Long live liquid plastic! . . . Applied to almost any surface it adds easy washability to walls, wallpaper, woodwork, wooden or metal furniture and unmettened items . . . Stains such as ink, crayon, lipstick, oil and kitchen greases can be washed off treated surfaces with a swish of a sudsy cloth . . . Found this ideal for the kitchen, bath, and nursery . . . Love the tiny fingers but don't appreciate the tiny prints on the walls . . . This saves both our tempers.

Have heard that a revolutionary new oval-shaped household pail or bucket is now on the market . . . Makes scrubbing easier . . . Better fit for mops and brushes, quicker to fill and better to pour . . . That plus easier to carry and better balance on steps and ladder platforms.

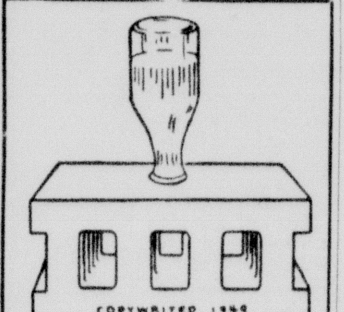

New Castle stores are featuring mix-and-match back to school clothing more than ever before this year . . . For the most part, the clothes are soft, curved and very very feminine . . . Feminine from the tweed skirts to the extra fluffy nightgowns.

Time for checking back to school clothing and equipment is now here . . . Time to see about lunch pails, notebooks, pencils, proper light as well as adequate space for the youngsters' homework and the ever present problem, clothes for the growing child . . . One of the main items on the list should be well fit, comfortable, sturdy shoes . . . Local stores indicate that most parents in this area are taking the shoe business seriously . . . Perhaps when these young ladies get a little older they will not try to crowd a size 8½ foot into a size 6½ shoe . . .

Friend of mine asked what to do about extra dry skin this time of year . . . Asked an authority on the subject . . . Was told that cleansing and lubrication with soap and water cannot be beat . . . Although was told not to rinse with cold water but to use warm or tepid water instead . . . Cold water closes oil glands and prevents the flow of natural oil.

85th Birthday Marked By Autocar Founder

HAVERFORD, Pa., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Louis S. Clarke, founder of the Autocar company and the last survivor of the nation's automotive pioneers, celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary today at his Haverford home.

Clarke built his first car, a three-wheeled gasoline-powered vehicle in 1896. He formed the Pittsburgh Motor Vehicle company a year later subsequently moving it to Ardmore where the name was changed to the Autocar company. The Autocar company is today the largest firm devoted exclusively to the manufacture of heavy duty trucks and highway tractors. Clarke attended Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh.

SPRAY NOW TO CONTROL FALL WEBWORMS

Fall webworms are feeding on the leaves of many shade trees, fruit trees and shrubs. Unless they are controlled, they may strip the leaves from several branches or the entire plant.

The caterpillars live within a flimsy white web. As they eat, the leaves within the web they enlarge the web to obtain more food. Later they will crawl down the tree trunks and may crawl on buildings.

The fall webworm is easily controlled with sprays before the worm becomes too large. Use two level tablespoons of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder per gallon of water and cover thoroughly the branches where the worms are feeding.

PREPARE SOIL FOR NEW LAWNS

September is the best month of the year for weeding a new lawn or renovating an old one. Before grass seed is sown, the soil should be prepared. This usually requires some time and work.

The lawn area should be graded with subsoil to six inches below grade before the topsoil is put in place. Next place six inches of topsoil over this area, and complete the final grade. If possible, let the soil settle for several weeks before doing the final smoothing job.

Regardless of how good the topsoil may be, add some lime (if needed), organic matter and superphosphate, and work into the soil. Use a good grade of seed. At seeding time, use a mixed fertilizer. After seeding, roll the lawn with a light roller.

You may secure a leaflet on "Lawn Construction" from the Agricultural Extension office, 206 Post Office building, New Castle. This leaflet gives additional information about making a lawn.

TIPS ON BUYING WATER HEATERS

Buy the type of hot water heater that best meets your needs. The volume of hot water you will need every day, the amount of laundering, the size of the family, and personal habits of family members will influence the kind and size of heater you will need.

It is estimated that each member of the household uses about 12 gallons of hot water daily, and that a 30-gallon hot water tank is the minimum for a bathroom, two-bedroom house. It is not advisable to base your needs on the minimum, for an overworked system may prove more expensive and less serviceable than one that operates at normal capacity.

If you select a gas water heater be sure that it has a control that will shut off the main burner should the pilot light go out. When you set the thermostat higher for very hot water, 180 to 195 degrees, Fahrenheit, that you will need for washing clothes, remember to turn it back to 140 degrees after the washing is finished. This not only saves on the fuel bill but also prevents scalding the hands.

STUFF CELERY

For company fare stuff celery with a mixture of Roquefort cheese and finely chopped almonds; cut in short sticks and serve on salad greens with French dressing.

Sever Relations With Red Nations Knights Demand

PITTSBURGH, August 23.—(INS)—The Knights of Columbus 66th annual convention in Pittsburgh today asked the government to sever diplomatic relations and trade agreements with Soviet Russia and six eastern European nations.

In a sharply-worded resolution, the convention claimed that Russia, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Bulgaria—"and Communist-ruled Yugoslavia" deny religious freedom and suppress freedom of information.

The resolution attacked Russia and the six European nations as "international outlaws" and demanded their diplomatic representatives in this country should be dismissed.

Study Principles
Another resolution urged Catholics and "all our fellow citizens" study the "saving principles expounded in the encyclicals and counsels of the Popes" . . . in order "that the social order may be reconstructed according to Christian standards."

The conventions ends today after selection of a site for next year's gathering.

Boston Judge John E. Swift was re-elected Supreme Knight of the organization for the fourth time yesterday. Luke E. Hart of St. Louis Supreme Advocate for the last 26 years, also was re-elected, along with four other officers.

U. S. Negotiator Is Ordered Home

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The navy announced Wednesday that Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, one of the United Nations negotiators at the Kaesong peace talks, has been ordered to return to Washington.

Burke's name was included on a routine transfer list showing that he had been ordered from his present "sea duty" to the office of naval operations. The navy gave no immediate explanation of his recall.

A navy spokesman said that the action means that Burke definitely will return to Washington. The spokesman gave no indication that Burke's transfer had any connection with progress of the peace talks, or when he would leave Kaesong.

TOKYO—Lt. General Nam Il, head of the Communist delegation to Korea peace talks, is shown here in a photo just received from Korea glancing at his wrist watch as he prepares to enter a recent conference. The gesture proved prophetic as late reports revealed that time had run out for further negotiations when the Communists broke off all further talks claiming an Allied aircraft had bombed the neutral area. Col. A. J. Kinney, investigating the charge, claimed the whole incident was a "frameup".

Bloodhounds Seek Escaped Convicts

ANNANDALE, N. J., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Bloodhounds and small spotting planes combed central New Jersey today for six of eight hardened young criminals who escaped from the State Reformatory at Annandale.

A posse of more than 100 state troopers, local police, prison guards and civil defense workers started the intensive search at daylight.

The eight, all between 17 and 22, sawed their way to freedom from one of the cottages at the reformatory yesterday. One was captured soon after his escape and the other early today. At almost the same time six young prisoners escaped from the Hunterdon County Jail at nearby Flemington, after tying up Warden Edward Taylor, 58. They took three guns from the jail safe and $100. All were recaptured.

Authorities said that they saw no connection between the two breaks although both were made by sawing bars to gain freedom.

Still being hunted were: David Lutz, 22, of South Orange, N. J.; William Landon, 17, of Dunnsville, Va.; Alex Zuback, 17, of Carteret, N. J.; Albert Poggie, 22, of Bloomfield, N. J.; Rufus Bryant, 18, of Tidewater, Va.; and James Martin, 21, of Camden, N. J.

Steel Distribution Should Be Relaxed

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The magazine Iron Age said Wednesday that marked improvement in steel distribution should result from a slight relaxing of controls by the National Production Authority permitting steel companies to re-establish historic customer relationships.

The publication recalled that the N.P.A. formerly required mills to book controlled materials plan orders on a first-come-first-served basis. According to Iron Age, this not only disrupted long-standing customer relationships, but it also had the frustrated customers rushing madly over the country trying to place their orders.

The magazine charged that this was as wasteful as it was confusing, and resulted in excessive delay and freight charges, as well as further taxing strained transport facilities.

Under the relaxed N.P.A. regulations, mills have been notified that they may take or reject C.M.P. orders regardless of date received until 15 days before lead times expires. During the final 15 days, orders will be booked on a first-come-first-served basis. Iron Age placed steel making operation this week at 98 per cent of rated capacity, down two points from last week's revised rate. It said the decline resulted from a strike of trainmen which idled 12,000 workers at Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna plant.

It takes about 200 man-hours of work to build an auto.

Plan Open House For Creasey Co.

Wholesale Building Will Be Inspected

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, August 27, 28 and 29, the Creasey Company, Inc., will hold "open house" in its new building on Cherry street, Mahoningtown. The "open house" will be from noon until 10 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday and from noon until 6 p.m. on Wednesday for the retail grocers in New Castle and surrounding area.

Modernistic in structure, the new Creasey building has 35,000 square feet of floor space including 1,000 square feet of office space. Light and airy storage space and buying areas are the features of the concrete block fire-proof building. An adequate parking lot has also been provided.

Ample railroad and truck shipping facilities have been provided to insure retailers of a well-supplied grocery wholesale house.

Destroyed By Fire

On August 30, 1947, lacking a few days of being four years ago, the old Creasey company building on Grove street was destroyed by fire. The fire was caused by lightning shortly before 9 o'clock on a busy Saturday evening. The loss was estimated at the time at a half million dollars.

Between the time of the fire and the opening of the new building on Cherry street, the Creasey company had been doing business in the old tin mill. The company used the mill as its temporary headquarters.

Officials of the company are: H. C. Buchanan, manager; C. B. Heasley, miscellaneous buying; J. H. McNees, advertising manager; C. D. Parker, cashier; George Cook, shipping.

Mock Air Raid At Gap Friday

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. August 23.—(INS)—More than 200 local officials are expected at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation tomorrow to attend a state-sponsored show on "Civil Defense in Action."

State Civil Defense Director Richard Gerstell said they will see all the services in the program.

Addresses Friday evening are scheduled by Gov. John S. Fine and Federal Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell.

The civil defense show will be topped by a mock air raid staged by 25 F-51 Mustangs of the Pennsylvania Air National Guard now in training at Reading.

The mock air raid, according to Gerstell, will show every facility in action. It will be broadcast over a statewide hookup from 9:30-10 p. m. (EST).

Demonstrations

A number of outdoor exhibits and demonstrations will be staged earlier for visiting officials.

"Some of the exhibits will show the resources of the commonwealth," Gerstell said. "They will also show how these services of the state can be modified or expanded for the benefit of our citizens in times of disaster produced by enemy attack."

Among the exhibits will be a filter station in operation, first aid and a mass feeding center and rescue services while another will show the supplies needed to take care of thousands of persons.

Eight Pennsylvania counties have contributed more than 45 pieces of fire apparatus for one of the larger demonstrations on fire fighting.

Court Reverses Remington Verdict

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The U. S. Court of Appeals on Wednesday today reversed the perjury conviction of former Commerce Department official William W. Remington, who was found guilty by a jury of lying when he swore he never had been a member of the Communist party.

The government promised that its case against the youthful, handsome Remington, presently free under $7,000 bail, will be "continued expeditiously."

Reversal of Remington's conviction last February 7 was on the ground of what the appeals court called "vague and indefinite" instructions to the jury by trial Judge Gregory F. Noonan on the matter of what constitutes proof of membership in the Communist party.

The government now has two choices of action in continuing its prosecution of the case. It may appeal the reversal to the U. S. Supreme Court, or it may order a retrial.

U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol said the government was not prepared to decide immediately on its course of action, but added:

"If the government decides to bypass review by the supreme court, Remington certainly will be retried."

Crusade For Freedom Chairman Appointed

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Albert M. Greenfield, president of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed 1951 Pennsylvania chairman of the Crusade for Freedom.

The appointment was announced yesterday by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, national chairman, the organization sponsors radio free Europe and was primarily responsible for the recent release of more than 200,000 anti-Communist propaganda balloons over Russian Satellite countries.

Last year more than 1,000,000 persons signed Crusade for Freedom scrolls in Pennsylvania and contributed more than $120,000 to building the radio free Europe station in Munich.

The 1951 goal in Pennsylvania is 2,200,000 signatures and $300,000 in contributions toward a national total of 25,000,000 names and $3,500,000.

State health departments in the U. S. spend about $60 million annually.

Gambler Found Shot To Death

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 23.—(INS)—A Chester, Pa., gambler on vacation was found shot to death early Wednesday on an Atlantic City street a few hours after he told his wife he was "going to see friends."

Detective Captain Edward Webb identified the murdered man as Hyman Kriss, 45, and said he had been shot through the left eye.

Webb said the body was found at 6 a.m. by a commuter on Missouri avenue, near Fairmont avenue.

The detective was told by Kriss' wife, Jacqueline, that the couple had come to Atlantic City two days ago for a vacation at a Boardwalk hotel. They were accompanied by their 14-month-old daughter, Evelyn and the fourteen-year-old daughter of a Chester neighbor.

Webb said Mrs. Kriss told him her husband was a gambler and operated a dice table in a Chester gaming house.

Doug Led The Fight But Won't Be Invited To The Peace Party

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson confirmed Wednesday that the U. S. has not formally invited General MacArthur to address the forthcoming Japanese peace conference in San Francisco.

However, Acheson emphasized that this is a primarily technical distinction.

"While it is in a literal sense correct that the U. S. government has not formally invited General MacArthur to attend and address the San Francisco peace conference, this is not because the U. S. and government did not desire to issue an invitation but because, as indicated in the second sentence of the release made on behalf of General MacArthur that the general feels that since he is not officially a member of the U. S. delegation he could not appropriately appear in the absence of a direct invitation by the peace conference itself.

"Obviously the United States is not in a position to issue an invitation on behalf of the conference."

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed By International News Service)

By INEZ ROBB

(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 — Hard work is the "anesthetic" that has made life bearable for Estelle Manville Bernadotte, widow of Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in Palestine, since he was assassinated in Jerusalem almost three years ago.

"Work may not be a cure-all, but it is certainly an anesthetic," the soft-spoken countess said a few days ago as she sat in an office high up in the new United Nations building.

She had just come from a meeting of the special UN commission considering the fate of prisoners of war of World War II, centering on the accusation that the U. S. S. R. still holds some 1,500,000 Italian, Austrian, German and Japanese combatants.

This three-man commission, of which she is a member, has been meeting in New York this summer, slowing and painstakingly probing for some solution of the gigantic and testing problem.

Several Decisions
"We have reached several decisions that give us hope," was all she would say of the delicate work of the commission.

In 1928, when with considerable pomp Estelle Manville, married Count Bernadotte, a nephew of the late King of Sweden, she seemed the typical American heiress in a typical international marriage.

But the marriage, contrary to so many of its kind, was extremely happy. And the bride, contrary to so many of her kind, threw herself wholeheartedly into the Red Cross, social and welfare work in which her husband was a leader throughout Scandinavia before World War II and throughout the world, once war started.

In the meantime, the American countess became head of the Swedish Girl Scouts and influential in a dozen philanthropic causes affecting women and children on the continent.

But after the death of her husband, she refused to take his place as head of the Swedish Red Cross, fearful she was being named only because she was his widow. And it took all of Trygve Lie's persuasiveness to get her to accept the present UN post.

My husband and I shared the same ideals when he lived," she said, "and I would be letting his memory down if I didn't try to help with this problem now."

Tall and Slim
The countess, tall and very slim, is a pretty woman with beautiful large brown eyes and dark hair, worn in a chignon that frames her serene face. She seems an extremely tranquil woman save for slim, restless hands that are never still a moment.

"After my mother died, I kept her New York apartment because I want my two boys to feel they have a home in America, too," she said. The countess has always maintained her American citizenship.

Those two sons, Folke, 20, and Bertil, 15, are in Stockholm now, cramming for school exams. Folke, who hopes to be a doctor, will take exams in September to qualify for the medical school at Uppsala University. Bertil is bopping up on Latin. The countess lost two other sons in infancy.

She and her boys share a common delight in—of all things!—American jazz.
"I've always loved good jazz. And now I'm enjoying a second childhood with my sons. If I feel terribly low, I can always put on a Benny Goodman record and get a lift for the day. And I suppose I shouldn't confess it," she smiled, "But I like just plain 'corn,' too."

When not wrestling with the problems of girl scouts, crippled children, church activities, and juvenile delinquency, the countess works at refinishing furniture, a hobby she enjoys tremendously. She hopes to leave within a matter of days for Stockholm to be with her sons briefly before starting on a back-breaking round of welfare meetings throughout Scandinavia.

"I will work with young women. I would like to help girls make better homes," she said. "Home is a woman's best career. Two nice, old-fashioned commodities, human kindness and love, are being neglected today in so many ways. And the world needs them so badly."

Plastic Screens Brighten Movies

NEW YORK—INS—Plastic has invaded movieland to provide motion picture patrons with clearer pictures on theater screens.

The plastic, a compound of coke, limestone, salt and water, made its debut recently at Radio City Music Hall in the form of a screen measuring 60 feet wide and 36 feet high, the largest in the world for indoor use.

It is from lighter weights of the same material that such common household articles as baby pants, shower curtains and table covers are made.

The material for the screen was fabricated to exacting engineering specifications for Radio City Corporation of America, the distributor, by the Firestone Plastic Co. It is pigmented with titanium dioxide to provide a brilliant white surface and embossed to make pictures clearer and brighter from any part of the 6,200-seat theater.

Pinned throughout the screen, yet invisible to the audience, are nearly 10,000,000 tiny holes that permit sound to be projected to the audience. The perforations, smaller than an ordinary pencil lead, occupy only eight per cent of the screen area.

The screen is sag-proof, crease-proof, flame-proof, mildew-proof and resistant to heat, cold and moisture. It is unusually light, weighing only 240 pounds without webbing and grommets.

CLEANING SILVERWARE

A good method for cleaning a large amount of flat silver is to do it all on one swoop, advise homemaking experts. Take a porcelain enameled utensil and cover the bottom of the utensil with a piece of aluminum foil. Measure in enough water to cover the silver and heat to boiling. Now add teaspoon of soda for each quart of water. Immerse the silver in the solution about a dozen pieces at a time. Be sure that each piece of silver touches the foil. Let the silver remain in the solution about two minutes, until tarnish is removed. Then remove with tongs and wash thoroughly. Rinse with hot water and dry with a soft cloth.

French gray finish, do not use this method. It also is not a good method for such pieces as candlesticks which might be damaged by being immersed in water, advise experts.

Auction Sales Try Patience Of New Castle Husbands

Auction sales still have an appeal about them which attract the young, the old, the rich, the poor.

Wednesday's sale at the old Hoover homestead on Neshannock avenue proved no exception. More than 200 crowded around the front porch of the downtown residence while an auctioneer put up household goods of various types from light shades to bedsteads for the bidding of the bargain-thirsty crowd.

While friend wife was in her glory bidding on this bit of pottery or on that chair, feelings of the male members of the household were not considered in the least. After all who has to dust and clean day in and day out, not man, but woman, it was reasoned.

Spirited bidding on the part of the front yard purchasers ran up many articles to a fair price, while other items really went for a song. "Who'll bid two, who'll bid twenty, who'll bid three?" was heard for nearly four hours as women bid against men and neighbors bid against neighbors.

Sprinkled among the crowds were those who were interested entirely in the antique end of the sale and a number of these went away with some real buys. Most of the merchandise that was offered for sale proved to be of a high quality and very few were disappointed with their purchases.

Clock Hunters
Clock hunters had a field day as a number of excellent clocks, including an old time Seth Thomas and other timekeepers of ancient vintage were put on the block. Lamps of all sorts, sizes, shapes and description were taken home.

to brighten up various nooks and crannies of the purchaser's home. Some laugh provoking sales were observed as some purchases were on a "pig in a poke" basis as old unopened suitcases were bought as was. Some of the valises contained good wearing apparel while others contained bits of cloth usable only for patching.

Kibitzing was at a minimum at the Wednesday sale as bids were received on the household goods as most every bidder stepped up and took away his article after providing the purchase price.

While the female members of the various households were made happy as they made their various purchases, many a husband groaned on Wednesday night as he went home and found his favorite room stocked up with more furniture or knick-knacks. More stuff to clean and move around was the complaint emanating from many a home.

Kizer No Commy Claims Mistake

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Benjamin H. Kizer, named in testimony by ex-communist Louis Budenz before a Senate committee, tonight branded the Budenz charges as "preposterous." Kizer, a prominent Washington state lawyer, said the Budenz testimony must be either "pure fabrication" or the result of mistaken identity.

He said: "I have never had relationship with communism in any shape or form or with any individual communists."

"I never in my life knew Earl Browder. I never knew Jack Stachel. I never heard the name before."

"I don't understand this. It's made up of whole cloth. I have practiced law in Spokane all my life. So far as I know there isn't a communist organization in Spokane."

Eddie Guest, whose poems have cheered many folk for 50 years, is given a special "day" by Detroiters. In honoring Eddie, his fellow townsmen had plenty of rhyme and reason.

Committee Faces Slicing Problem For Foreign Aid

By ROSE McKEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A joint Senate committee may decide today how it will trim a little more than a billion dollars out of President Truman's 8.5 billion dollar foreign aid program.

Chairman Connally (D) Tex., said the Foreign Relations-Armed Services committee agreed on a one billion, one million, 250 thousand dollar cut, the same as the House figure, and reduced the grand total in both the Senate and House bills to 7.499 billion dollars.

Two Proposals Made
Before designating the various sections to be cut, the committee must decide a major issue—how global aid should be administered. Two proposals are pending.

One, by Sens. Saltonstall (R) Mass., and Smith (R) N.J., would strip Secretary of State Acheson of all control over foreign aid by setting up a new all-embracing independent agency.

The other, by Sen. Lodge (R) Mass., would make the defense department solely responsible for military aid. It would leave economic assistance in the Economic Cooperation Administration and retain Point Four program in the State department.

The defense department is reportedly disturbed by its presently limited authority over the military aid program. It wants the final word on distribution of arms to other countries.

Meanwhile, the administration picked up unexpected support for its economic aid program when Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., warned that the European rearmament program will fail unless Atlantic Pact countries continue to receive ECA assistance.

He said this without further economic aid, "Gen. Eisenhower might as well come home—they (Western Europe) have us over the barrel."

Korean Veterans Headed For Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 23.—(INS)—The largest group of Korean war veterans to be returned to Indiantown Gap military reservation for discharge and reassignment is scheduled to arrive here Monday.

A total of 174 men are on shipment from Fort Lawton, Wash., and Camp Stoneman, Calif. All soldiers to be discharged are Pennsylvanians and will be released from the separation center in operation at Indiantown since July 15. The others will be transferred to the fifth infantry division to instruct trainees.

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. George Barth, who commanded the 24th division for 11 months in Korea, took over duties as assistant to Maj. Gen. Laurence B. Kesler, post commander and another veteran combat commander in Korea.

A graduate of West Point, General Barth served with the ninth division in Africa and Sicily and with the 90th division in France during World War II. He was stationed at several army posts after the war before going to Japan and then to Korea.

Franco Contends Spain Needs Aid In Event Of War

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco says in the issue of Newsweek magazine appearing today that Spain needs economic and military aid if it is to cooperate in the defense of the west.

The Spanish chief of state, answering five questions put to him by the magazine, also declared his troops will remain within the "national borders" of their nation since "they are not in the habit of going where they have not been called."

Could Be Of Help

Franco said that the 40-million inhabitants of Spain and Portugal, strategically placed south of the Pyrenees "could be of great importance to the European alliance, paying with interest the sacrifices made in their favor."

He added: "The preparation and strengthening of the Spanish army will not only tilt the balance but could also, when the moment arrives, be decisive for Europe and the world."

While offering to cooperate with the west, Franco derided the idea of a unified European armed force, saying: "The European army can never be more than a collection of the national armies of Europe."

He attributed British and French coolness toward the rearmament and strengthening of Spain to a combination of "imperialism" in their foreign policies and socialist "political party passions" domestically.

Many Serve In Armed Forces

Ward Sends Many Sons To Service

Seventh ward's average for sending men into the various branches of the armed forces is an enviable one, it is believed. A number of families have two members serving their country while many, many others have one boy or girl serving.

Some mothers have reinstituted the plan of placing a star in the window for each member of her family who is serving in the army, navy, marines or air force.

The various branches are almost equally represented with the army having a slight edge over the other branches. A number of young men are serving in the Korean sector. Letters from the boys indicate that the length of their stay in the east is undetermined at this time.

A large number of ward men are in the reserves and are expected to leave soon for training as is required by their reserve appointment. The 229th Field Artillery, currently serving in Fort Bragg, N. C., is well sprinkled with seventh ward youths as training maneuvers continue there.

A number of young women have served and are currently serving in the women's army and are glad to offer their services to their country.

Plan Open House For Son Entering Navy

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Domenick, 116 West Cherry street are planning for an open house Sunday evening in honor of their son John, who is entering the service of his country in the navy.

The Domenick home will be opened to the many friends and relatives of John throughout the evening hours. An informal period is planned when refreshments will be served to the guests.

John Domenick will leave Monday for his training period after which he will be assigned to regular duty.

Scouts All Day Hike Is Planned

Boy Scouts of the Mahoningtown troop and the Explorer troop four plan for an all day hike on Saturday, August 25, in North Beaver township in the Hickory creek area near Flat Rock. The boys will be under the leadership of scoutmaster John E. Porter, Sr., and Don Weisbaker, assistant leader.

On August 15 the group made a trip to the area and prepared the site for the camp trip. Later on, an overnight camp out is planned. The boys will bring along food and cook out during the trip.

Owners of property in the Hickory creek area have been gracious enough to permit the campers to stay overnight on the land. They are grateful for this courtesy.

Sunday Schools To Observe Rally Day

Members of the Simpson Methodist, Mahoning Methodist and Mahoningtown Presbyterian churches will observe Rally Day along with the rest of the city and county on Sunday, September 30, it is learned.

A good attendance is expected if the weather for the day is nice. Superintendents of the several schools are planning for an all out effort to boost their attendance considerably during that day.

Visitors to the schools will be assigned by the city superintendents council who will explain fully the plan and procedure. William Hedegore, president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, has suggested that a new class be organized on Rally Day.

WITH NEW CASTLE AFRO-AMERICANS

Next meeting of the Sunshine Kensington Club will be held at the Elm Street Y.W.C.A. Center. The last meeting took place in the home of Mrs. Katherine Engs, Green street with Modella Clark as chaplain. Following devotion, a short business session took place followed by group singing and a social period. The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Ruth Hill and grandson, Russell Hill, served refreshments.

To a person of normal hearing, the ticking of a watch can be heard from a distance of three feet.

What Onda Said Isn't Important

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23 — (INS) — "What Onda said today won't be in the newspapers."

With that statement, Andrew Onda, one of two Pittsburgh Communists being tried on seditious charges, rested his defense.

Onda, acting as his own attorney throughout the eight-month trial, declared:

"The prosecution is trying to arrest Onda, but you can never put ideas in prison."

Onda said "Onda is being persecuted" like the early Christian martyrs who were thrown to the lions.

History taught us that the pagan Romans could kill Christians, but they could not kill their beliefs," Onda said.

He denied that "Onda advocated sabotage, that Onda urged force and violence," adding that the prosecution had offered no evidence to prove that he did.

James Dolsen, also on trial with Onda on the same charges, is expected to make an appeal in his own defense.

Both defendants are among the Communists arrested in the FBI roundup last week and are being held under $100,000 bond on charges filed by the FBI.

Federal Judge William Alwah Stewart has set 10 a.m. tomorrow for a hearing on arguments to reduce the bail.

City Schools Not To Comply With New Law

Because Of Late
Date, Starting Age
Not To Be Changed

New Castle School District will not be able to comply with the provisions of Act 312, which was recently passed by the state legislature, because of the late date, it is announced by Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent.

The board of school directors by means of a poll of the members decided last night not to accept the 1951-52 term any beginning pupil that will not be six years of age before Feb. 1, 1952.

Before Act 312 was passed the minimum age for entrance for beginners was five years and seven months on September first. Act 312 provides that any child with a mental age of six years may—not must—be admitted.

The mental age under the new law is to be determined by the school psychologist only. In districts that decide to comply with the new law, all children whose parents feel they have a mental age of six can request an examination and the school must grant the request even though the child may be denied entrance after taking the test because of other factors than the mental age.

Only One Psychologist
New Castle has only one psychologist and it is physically impossible for him to give individual tests before school begins on September 4. If a great many pupils under five years and seven months of age were to be admitted at this late date it would completely upset the present organization and possibly require additional teachers.

Since there is only one psychologist for both Lawrence and Beaver County school districts, the Lawrence County districts will probably take the same action as the New Castle District.

Many of the board members and school officials question the wisdom of admitting pupils under five years and seven months of age to grade one and point out the following reasons:

All Phases Considered

1. We believe that the child's whole nature and life should be considered—not just his mental maturity. Social, physical, and emotional factors may play as important a part as his mental maturity. 2. The eyes of even six year old children are not properly developed for distance seeing rather than for close work of a fine nature, which reading is. First grade pupils read many more books than formerly, which places quite a strain on their eyes. This would be an even more serious matter for the child who is less than six years old.

3. Reading is the main subject taught in grade one, and since children who are younger than six years chronologically have no social need for reading, there is no reason for their entering school before that age.

Disadvantages Also
4. Young children in grade one may be at a disadvantage because of having to compete with children who are larger and stronger than they are. Feelings of inferiority may develop as a result. If a young child were admitted to grade one he would then fall within the provisions of the compulsory school attendance law and would be required to continue in grade one even if he was unhappy in it.

5. On the basis of the distribution of intelligence in children, it is known that only a small percentage of children under five years and seven months have a mental age of six years or higher. Many parents would be disappointed when told that their children do not have a mental age of six years. Some children would be disappointed also because they could not enter school and may become frustrated because of relationships with other pupils.

Several qualifications necessary before children are considered old enough to enter school will be printed in Friday's News.

Russia Is Pushing Air Force Buildup

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—(INS)—American sources in Berlin said today that Russia is rushing the build-up of a special strategic air force to wage atomic warfare against the West in the event of a new global conflict.

The sources said a network of new airfields is being established in Poland, East Germany and the western sectors of the Soviet Union to handle newly arrived latest-type fighters and bombers. Included in the "atom bomb air branch," equivalent to the American strategic air command, are brand new jet medium bombers designed as J-12s.

To fly the planes, an estimated 4,000 additional pilots and ground crewmen are said to have arrived in East Germany during the past few months.

In The Open

On August nights after the moon has rolled up its golden curve of light, the countryman turns his gaze to the skies overhead. Now the summer sky is at its best, not to be rivaled until another February, when a great company of notables assembles under the celestial canopy of winter. Starlit August is something special in the outdoors calendar. The countryman seeks out remote roadways through the hills and while mists through the valleys below he watches the familiar stars marking with bright curves the printless steps of time.

The ancient love of simple stargazing has been ridiculed by exact scientists who would bury it under the avalanche of mathematics and physics which constitute modern astronomy. But the countryman refuses to wade through a welter of geometry and trigonometry just to be able to locate the Swan and the Northern Crown. He learns to know the Big Dipper and the north star and from these starting points traces out the constellations in his own way.

Tonight, if the skies are clear, look straight up at about 10 o'clock daylight savings time. That bright star which outshines all its neighbors is Vega, in the group known as the Lyre. Now find the Big Dipper and follow the curve of the handle in an imaginary line across the heavens. This will bring you to the first magnitude star Arcturus, which is at the lower point of the constellation Boötes.

Between Arcturus and Vega an imaginary line will first pass through the Corona Borealis, or Northern Crown, and the constellation Hercules. The crown is a small and circular star-group which the Indians knew as the council circle. It looks like a circle of jewels with one large one in the middle of the string, which has earned it the name of the diamond necklace in the sky.

The step from the Crown to the Cross is natural and easy in the August sky. If you will start again at the Big Dipper and draw a line upward from the middle of the bowl about three dipper lengths, until it meets the Milky Way, you will have reached the Northern Cross, which is also called Cygnus, the Swan. Here the bright star at the top of the Cross, or tail of the Swan, is known as Deneb.

The Swan flies southward along the Milky Way and deep in the south these starlit August nights you will find Scorpio, with the red Antares as its signal star, trailing its scaly length. Believe it or not, the smouldering Antares is said by astronomers to be 400 miles in diameter! Many star gazers have mistaken the cluster of stars in the tail of the scorpion for a comet.

Once you have Vega and Deneb spotted you will note that a third bright star joins these two to form a clear-defined triangle. This is Altair, further identified by two small companions, one on either side and all three in a line. Altair is in the constellation Aquila, or the Eagle. Just to the northeast of Altair is a little diamond-shaped cluster of stars known as Job's Coffin. The countryman peers at this odd-shaped casket and wonders how Job ever got inside.

Most wonderfully imaginative are the mythological and legendary pictures which the ancient stargazers dreamed up as they gazed in wonder at the ever-changing panorama overhead. It takes some stout imagining to see Boötes and his two dogs chasing the Great Bear. Or even to picture Cygnus winging his way ever southward.

Interesting conjecture to the countryman who would know the summer constellations better. What of the Dragon, who slides his sinuous form between the Lyre and the pole star? Or of Pegasus, the winged horse who flies up from the east over the head of Aquarius, the Water-bearer? They are a large and notable company. Track them down in the skies tonight and then hunt up their biographies. You will find the time delightfully well spent.

MT. VERNON, Ill.—Brakes of Mt. Vernon's 12-ton firetruck failed on a fast run. But the chief and two firemen got off with only "pretty funny feeling". The driver couldn't make his turn and kept on at 30 m.p.h. before a hill slowed the fire wagon enough to make the next turn. The fire was out.

Cleveland Indians Lead By Two Games, Battle Yankees Today

Avila's Homer In 14th Wins Game, Yanks Lose To Tigers

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(U. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Cleveland, the present-day capital of the American league, becomes a pennant battlefield today when a desperate band of Yankees shows up to joust with the Indians.

Everything that has gone before gets lost in the immediate importance of the three-game set, which could go a long way in determining the final aspirations of the principals.

The setting finds the first-place tribe armed with a two-game lead, a 15-game winning streak at home, a pitching staff that's second to none and a pennant fever that's going to be hard to cool off.

Raschi vs Lemon
The opener finds the Yankee meal ticket, big Vic Raschi, going after his 18th win against the likes of Bob Lemon, a guy of national repute who better than his 14-9 record indicates.

A snap at this point would put the tribe five games to the good, a figure set by manager Al Lopez as the goal of this current home stand.

The Indians tuned up for the big show by edging past the Washington Senators, 6 to 5, yesterday on Bob Avila's home run in the 14th inning. Dale Mitchell had tied the contest with a three-run circuit blast.

The Yankees were less fortunate. They lost, 7 to 6, in 12 innings to the Detroit Tigers.

Philadelphia's Athletics tripped the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 2, and 8 to 1, in a two-night twin bill.

The Boston Red Sox edged the St. Louis Browns in a 13-inning thriller, 3 to 1.

Dodgers Win Two
In the National league, the St. Louis Cardinals continued to serve as fall guys for the Dodgers. The Brooks took a 4 to 3 ten-inning daygame decision and an 8 to 7 ten-inning night time decision from the Redbirds.

The Dodger lead went up to eight games despite the fact that the Giants won their 11th in a row by besting the Reds, 4 to 3.

In other games, Robin Roberts won his 17th and got the Phillies back into third place by blanking the Cubs, 4 to 0, and the Braves nosed out the Pirates, 5 to 4, in ten innings.

Elliott-Wampum Clash At Bessemer
Wampum and Elliotts, City loop teams, clash at 5:45 p.m. today at Bessemer. Each has won two games, and tied another, in their five games series.

The winner of today's game will play Universal who defeated Bessemer in a series. The latter pair will play a seven games series, the dates to set later.

Spark Five Wins Basketball Title

Spark Five led by Howie Myers and Craig McBurney, Wednesday won the junior outdoor recreation basketball championship, with a 26-8 victory over Pollock.

The winners held a 15-4 lead at halftime.

In midgame play, the Hawk-Shooters ran away from Big Run, 53-2, to win the midgame title.

Frank Bongivengo, Ed Llewellyn, Alan Greenberg, Ron Abraham, and Joe DeVito, comprised the winning combination which blanketed the losers 25-0 at halftime.

MILT DUNSMORE

First annual New Castle Country Club Pro-Amateur Invitational Tournament will be held at the Country Club Sunday, September 16. It is announced by Milt Dunsmore, club professional.

Milt will be host pro to 20 district professionals, who will team up with members of the New Castle club and play in threesomes—one pro and two amateurs.

Forty amateurs from the local club will compete in the tournament at one-half their club handicaps with a maximum of seven strokes.

The tournament committee, headed by Bill Gross, and composed of Barney Barnhart and E. L. Stutzinger, Jr., completed arrangements for the tournament Tuesday evening at a meeting with Howard B. Cummings, club president, and Dunsmore.

According to plans made by the committee, pairings for the tournament will be made Tuesday evening, September 11. A special dinner will be held Saturday evening, September 15, to officially kick-off the tournament.

This is the first event of this kind ever conducted at the New Castle Country Club and it is expected to be very popular with players and non-players alike.

North County New Wilmington Downs Pulaski

New Wilmington's big guns came alive Wednesday evening as the College Towners subdued Pulaski 17-3 at New Wilmington in the third game of the championship series for the North County Baseball League championship.

Silenced for two straight games, the heavy hitting New Wilmington team came back to pound out 13 hits against five different Pulaski hurlers.

Hutchinson started for New Wilmington but was relieved by Don Meyers before the end of the first inning. All three of Pulaski's runs were unearned.

Fourth game of the best-of-seven series will be played tonight at New Wilmington.

New Castle Indians Gain Split With Lockport In Frigid Games

(Special To The News)

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Pat McCullough pitched and hit the Locks to a nightcap win over the Indians last night by a 2 to 1 score after New Castle won the opener behind Bill Ciske 3 to 1.

McCullough lined a vicious drive to left field which Walt Kowalski snared with one hand against the wall. But Jackie Randall scored from third after the catch with the winning marker in the sixth inning. Both games were played in seven innings because of the cold weather.

McCullough gave the Indians just five hits.

Ciske permitted just five bingles in the first game as the Indians won 3 to 1 to open the long series. A triple by Bill Green scored Toles with one run in the first. Green scored on an infield out in the fifth. Hits by Green and Kowalski, sacrifice and an infield out scored the final marker. Red Kaiser was the losing pitcher. In the second game the Locks came ahead 1 to 0 but New Castle came back to tie it up in the third on three singles.

McCullough walked to open the sixth and went to second on a sacrifice. A wild pitch advanced him to third and McCullough then drove him in.

Lausche Given "Inside Track" Ohio Governor May Get Baseball Post

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Ohio's Governor Frank J. Lausche is all but directly admitting today that he has been approached about the baseball commissionership.

Informed of New York reports that Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds general manager, may throw his support to Lausche, the Democratic governor said:

"In the past, I've always said 'no' when asked if I had been approached. Now, all I can say is 'no comment'."

Giles is reportedly bracketed with Lausche and Ford Frick, president of the National League, as outstanding nominees to replace baseball's deposed A. B. Chandler. Club owners are meeting in Chicago September 20 to name a new commissioner.

Fourth Ward Defeats Ellwood Moose 6-3 To Capture Best-Of-Three Game Series

Fourth Ward of New Castle defeated the Ellwood City Moose 6-3 Wednesday evening at the Little League field to capture the best-of-three Little League series 2-1.

Danny DiCarlo went the distance for the New Castle first half champions and held the Ellwood City titleholders to four hits—one of them a home run by pitcher Bob Mallory with one man on base in the first inning.

Hit Mallory Hard

The local batters seemed to lose their awe of Ellwood's great young pitcher, Mallory, and tagged him for eight hits—just eight more than they got off him in the first game of the series.

The Fourth Warders squelched a Moose rally in the sixth inning when they pulled a double play to end the game. Mallory opened the inning with a free ticket, Hughes flied out, Beatrice singled, Majors filled the bases, and Young, batting for Volpe, hit to Long at short, who threw Mallory out at the plate.

Flannery then whipped the ball back to third, where the rest of the Ellwood City baserunners had jammed up, for the double play.

Maxim Easily Defeats Murphy

Lack Of Punch Saves Ex-Sailor From K.O.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Maxim, who opened the eyes of the boxing world by closing the eyes of Bob Murphy, said today he will be happy to school Murphy further in the art of self defense, and inquired if there are any more at home like him.

Maxim's jab-and-cross masterwork at Madison Square Garden last night left Irish Bob without the light heavyweight title he sought, without any solace from those who made him a 2-to-1 choice over Maxim, and—temporarily—without his eyesight.

In the unanimous decision of the three officials, Murphy lost ten rounds. He won only two on the INS scorecard, and even those seemed part of Maxim's plan.

Murphy's Style Pleased Joey

Maxim lost the play to Murphy's wild fury in the first round, but it seemed Joey merely was sucking the ex-sailor from San Diego into a trap. He was rushing him, and Murphy did so, and Joey, stepping back, calmly set him up for a devastating run of shots and parries.

Joey also lost one of the later rounds, mainly because he was resting. It didn't mean a thing. The wild-swinging Murphy was so helpless at the hands of his canny foe that in one round—the tenth—he didn't land a single punch.

The only thing that saved Murphy from a K. O. was the fact that Maxim does not pack the punch to knock out Bill Vecek's pinch-hitting midget.

For Maxim, however, it was close to a perfect fight.

Dauthille Wins Unpopular Call

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Laurent Dauthille gained a unanimous but unpopular 10-round decision over silent Gene Hairston last night in Montreal.

The Parisian middleweight, who now fights out of the Quebec City, had Hairston in trouble in the eighth but the New Yorker came back in the following round to give Dauthille a sound whipping.

A crowd of 12,000 watched the two fighters, both of whom scaled 160 pounds, clinch and shove through most of the bout.

Bob (Pop) Rutherford was succeeded as Penn State golf coach by his son and long-time assistant, Bob, Jr.

Three Mat Bouts Friday Evening

Expect Big Crowd At Flaherty Field

Only 24 hours remain until Ruffy Silverstein, the pride of Chicago wrestling, who grappled with Jackie Nichols in a sensational draw here several weeks ago, meets Francois Miquet, French champion, in an exhibition docketed for 60 minutes, unless it is cut short by a fall.

Monday night in Ellwood City, Silverstein downed Angelo Poffo. In the semi-final, Mars Bennett, one of the best of feminine wrestlers, will oppose Cora Coombs who knows all the holds and tricks of the game.

The Tag match should be exceptionally exciting because it contains Farmer Marlin and Polo Cordova versus Jules La Renee and Ali Pasha. The latter was paired with rugged Jack Vansky at Ellwood City, Monday night.

All Video Performers

Practically all of the wrestlers on Friday night's docket perform on television and owing to their reputations, Miquet and Silverstein are bound to be greeted by a large crowd.

The Jefferson A. C. is promoting the exhibitions, which may be the last of the summer season, hence it is probable that the largest crowd of the summer will witness the spectacle.

Steelers Score On Three Pass Plays

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers today held a 21-17 victory over the New York Yanks with Pittsburgh scoring its three touchdowns through the air lanes.

The Yanks registered the first three points in the exhibition game at Forbes Field last night in the second quarter, with the Steelers coming back in the same stanza to grab 14 points.

Score On Passes
Tailback Joe Geri tossed 69 yards and 27 yards to right end Elbie Nickel for the Steelers first two tallies. In the third quarter, wingback Lynn Chandois completed a nine yard pass to quarterback Joe Gasparilla for the Steelers' third score. Geri converted for the three extra points.

A 17-yard field goal by Nathan Johnson gave the Yanks the first blood in the game. The Yanks last quarter scoring came when halfback Sherman Howard plunged three yards for a touchdown and quarterback Johnny Rauch completed a 16-yard forward pass to fullback Zollie Toth.

The Yanks shined in the statistic department, with 18 first downs to 13 and 329 net yards to 268. Joe Geri was the leading individual ground gainer with 97 yards credited to him.

Senate GOP Bloc Tries Squeeze On Mason Owlett

(By International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 23.—The Senate Republican bloc which spikes the House-approved income levy and the proposed a six-tax substitute package has tried a little squeeze to attempt to end the tax deadlock. . . . Sen. Paul Wagner (R) Schuylkill, was instrumental, he says, in making sure that word was carried via a third party to national committeeman G. Mason Owlett. . . . The word was to the effect that the GOP bloc would recommend still another increase in the corporate net income tax if the substitute plan was turned down by the House. . . . The substitute plan proposed a one per cent boost—it would augment a similar raise already approved by the legislature—but the Wagner-led strategists proposed still another raise. . . . Their aim was to spur Owlett into making new overtures to the house on behalf of the program. . . . Owlett, a former state senator and ace GOP strategist, is president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

The National Institute of Life Insurance has reported that $6,457 death claims worth $84,033,000 were paid on Pennsylvania during the first half of 1951. . . . Only New York, with $10,158 death claims and policies worth $141,691,000 surpassed Pennsylvania. . . . The institute reported that ordinary benefits in the first half of the year totaled $54,460,000 while group policy death payments amounted to $17,411,000 and industrial settlements ran up to $15,162,000. . . . Nationwide, insurance death benefits for the first six months of 1951 amounted to $877,319,000 which represented 765,289 policies.

Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R) Armstrong, learned much to his embarrassment as a leader in the fight to have loyalty oath legislation enacted that a man he enthusiastically thanked for some unsolicited information once headed an anti-semitic organization. . . . Pechan fell into the trap which awaits many an unwary lawmaker faced with a huge pile of mail. . . . The amiable Ford City dentist—he recently made a set of false teeth for a fellow senator after availing himself of a Harrisburg dentists' "courtesy" in providing working space—was the victim of his own good nature of his failure to check the identity of his informant and of a figurative mountain of mail—most of it condemning the loyalty oath bill. . . . Of course, some lawmakers allow the mail to pile up without opening it. . . . This came to light when an overflowing washbowl flooded House committee rooms. . . . When workmen began cleaning up the mess, they found piles of unopened mail next to the desk of judiciary committee chairman John H. McKinney (R) Venango.

A recapitulation of the House vote on legislation to boost weights of all trucks, and especially of tractor tandem-axle semi-trailers from 45,000 to 60,000 pounds, shows that the 32 Democrats and 110 Republicans voting on the Senate-approved measure differed little on the number of opponents. . . . Approximately 40 per cent of the Democrats and Republicans voting cast negative ballots. . . . Fifteen House members were absent but their votes would not have changed the final count.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

Illusion of Adoption

The feeling on the part of youngsters that they must have been adopted is more common than we think. But why should a 13-year-old look at her parents and think "They can't really be my father and mother." Or another youngster feel that she must have come from noble lineage?

There's no simple or uniform answer. But early adolescence is a time of dreaming, of thinking great thoughts, or aspirations and ambitions. And when the dreamer looks at his everyday parents, it's hard to think that they have given birth to him. Or perhaps there's been some injustice felt, a lack of understanding or unfair discipline used. "How," the aggrieved youngster asks himself, "could they

Biggest US Town Boasts Safety

BROOKLINE, Mass. — (INS) — Brookline, the biggest town in the United States, is gaining fame as being the safest community in the land.

The community of 57,000 persons went through 1950 without a single fatality.

Police Chief James W. Tonra, a veteran of 34 years on the force, is credited with bringing about the great safety record.

He reorganized the traffic division when he took over as chief 13 years ago. He assigned 11 men and two women to highway safety as his first move.

The two women are clerks who file complete reports on all accidents involving damage of $25 or more. This contrasts with the usual procedure of filing reports only in cases of personal injury. Says Chief Tonra:

"We spot dangerous intersections through the property damage files and rectify the cause of the danger before we have a fatality."

Brookline also has three safety cruisers always on patrol, has a strictly enforced jay-walking law and a no-fix ticket system. The no-fix tickets are kept that way merely by remaining in the pockets of the complaining officers until court action is taken. Nothing shows on the books until the case is all over, therefore there is nothing politicians or others can do about "putting in a fix".

THE NAME

SINGAPORE—They called him "The Name" aboard the French liner "Andre Lebon".

That was because Monsieur Mougammadoucoussoumarecar usually couldn't find space enough to write his name on chits. A French Indian businessman, he was among passengers from Saigon bound for France when the vessel arrived here recently.

SAUSAGE

When you are frying sausage patties pour off the fat as it accumulates. Store the fat in a small covered jar and use in gravy or a sauce.

How To Hold

FALSE TEETH

More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.
